JAKE C. MOORE TAKEN BY DEATH

End Comes After Short Illness With Typhoid Pneumonia.

For Many Years He Was Connected With the State Prison System—For Twenty Years He Served as the Sheriff of Floyd County.

Jake C. Moore a well-known figure in Georgia, for years connected with the state prison system, died last night at 7 o'clock at his home in Smyrna, Ga., following a short illness of typhoid-pneumonia.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. The services will be held some time Saturday, probably in the First Baptist church in Smyrna.

Mr. Moore is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. John L. Pollock, Mrs. C. A. Quarles and Mrs. L. C. Gilbert; four brothers, John D., R. H., E. P. and T. B. Moore, and two sisters, Mrs. T. J. Davis and Mrs. W. P. McLeod.

Mr. Moore had been a resident of Georgia all his life. He was born in Floyd county in 1851.

For years he was chief inspector of prisons under the prison commission. Until he was appointed to that position he was assistant keeper of the state penitentiary. Prior to that time he was sheriff of Floyd county, in which capacity he served for twenty years.

NO TURKEY TROT, NO GRIZZLY BEAR

And No Moonlight Waltz—All Three Dances Barred by Des Moines Council.

Des Moines, Iowa, January 11.—All persons dancing the "Grizzly Bear" or the "Turkey Trot," or the "Moonlight Waltz" in public dance halls in Des Moines will be arrested.

An ordinance placing the public dance halls under police regulation passed the city council last night. Men and women censors employed by the police department will attend dances, eliminating all figures that are regarded as immoral.

The censors who reported for duty today will be paid out of a trust fund which the dance hall owners must pay the city weekly beside their annual license tax of $100.

JUDGE SWAYZE MAY GET HARLAN'S SEAT

Judge Francis Joseph Swayze, of Newark, N. J., is being considered by President Taft for appointment to the supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Harlan. Judge Swayze is 50 years old and has had seven or eight years' experience on the supreme court of New Jersey.

TWINS MARRY TWINS, AND THEN COME TWINS

Wichita, Kan., January 11.—Twin brothers married twin sisters at Longdale, Okla., and a few hours after the double wedding twin boys were born early today to the parents of the bridegrooms. Wilfred and Vivian Wilson married Martha and Mary Schaefer. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wilson, parents of the babies, are admirers of Theodore Roosevelt and say they hope to have the ex-president select names for the boys.

SNOW IS DRIVEN BY 40-MILE GALE

King Blizzard Again Gets Busy in the United States.

The Middle West Once More Shrouded in Coat of White, and the Storm Is Advancing on the South—Shortage of Coal in Many Places.

Kansas City, January 11.—With temperatures the lowest of the winter, a snow falling, and a 40-mile wind blowing from the northwest, Kansas, southern Missouri and northern Oklahoma suffered today. Trains in all directions are from two to twenty-four hours late. At 8 o'clock tonight the mercury in Kansas City stood at 10 degrees below zero.

The snow storm is heaviest in Kansas, where it raged all day, and showed no sign of abatement tonight. On account of the extreme cold and a shortage of coal, Kansas university, at Lawrence, closed tonight until the weather should moderate.

Topeka reported that both the Rock Island and Santa Fe railroads have stopped trains at terminals. The Union Pacific railroad has been forced to abandon all train schedules west of Topeka

Appeals For Aid.

Governor Stubbs, and the Kansas public utilities commission were deluged with appeals for help from towns without railroad service. Meade and Englewod both are out of coal and running short of provisions. Scott City also is suffering.

A telegram from Beaver, Okla., said the county offices there had been closed and the fuel on hand distributed among citizens. Forty dollars a ton is being offered for coal. In Kansas City, where 5,000 persons are in need, the charity organizations were busy all day. The charity commission of Kansas City, Kansas, decided today too draw on the city's $25,000 emergency fund for money to provide relief for the destitute.

Heavy Snow in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., January 11.—With almost the proportions of a blizzard, a snowstorm has been raging over Kentucky since this morning; the temperature fell slowly, and was expected to reach zero before morning. Snow lies to a depth of 6 inches and over on the level, and in Louisville and other cities traffic is blocked and street car service crippled. The mountain section has suffered the heaviest snows in recent years, and all over the state the thickest ice in a decade is being harvested. Ohio river traffic is at a standstill, and

BIG REDUCTIONS MAY FOLLOW RULE

Declared Franchises Are Not Basis For Rate Making.

The Railroad Commission's Decision in Savannah Case May Mean Extensive Reductions in Many Public Service Rates.

Franchises, donated by the public, cannot be used as a basis for piling up earnings, declared the state railroad commission yesterday in its decision in the case of the Savannah City and Suburban Improvement association against the Savannah Electric Company.

The commission laid down the rule in its decision that the basis of valuation for the determination of reasonable rates to be charged by public service corporations shall be the ascertained value of its physical properties, exclusive of franchises, except that such companies shall be allowed to earn taxes required to be paid on such franchises.

While the commission in this particular case refused to order a reduction in the street car fares charged by the company, on the ground that it is earning only 6¾ per cent on the value of its physical property, which it did not consider unreasonable, its laying down of this rule is of state-wide interest, and there will be much speculation as to the result of it.

May Mean Reductions.

It is a well-known fact that practically every public service corporation in the state has capitalized its public franchises to the full extent of their value, and is either earning or endeavoring to earn a return upon that valuation.

In many instances these franchises are the most important assets which the companies own, and they figure most preminently in the capitalization.

But the commission has declined to consider capitalization as a basis for rate-making, and in the Savannah case says clearly that it should be physical valuation of properties exclusive of franchises.

If this principle should be applied there can be no question that it would mean extensive reduction in public service rates all over Georgia.

It would mean reduction in railroad, street car, electric lighting and probably other rates at various points in the state.

May Bring Up Other Cases.

FINANCE COMMITTEE WILL WORK FOR WIDER STREETS

The finance committee of council, which is now preparing to make up its January apportionment sheet, is convinced, so it is understood, that the most important matter it has under consideration is the improvement of several public thoroughfares; and it is believed that the committee, yielding to the demand for such improvement, and recognizing it can do nothing better for the welfare of the entire city, will make the necessary appropriations.

The most important street work for which requests have been made is the following:

Important Street Work.

The completion of the widening and repaving of Marietta street to North avenue; the repaving of East Fair street from Washington street to Oakland cemetery; the repaving of North and South Boulevard; the completion of the widening and repaving of West Mitchell street; the repaving of West Hunter street from Whitehall to Madison avenue; the further improvement of Spring street; the regrading and repaving of Ivy street; the regrading and repaving of West Peachtree street; the completion of the work of extending Georgia avenue to West End; the closing of the underpasses on the Forsyth street bridge.

The Marietta Street Work.

First and foremost of all these contemplated and greatly wanted street improvements is the completion of the work on Marietta street. Two years ago Councilman W. T. Winn and several property owners, backed by The Constitution, undertook to widen and repave Marietta street from Tabernacle Place on North avenue, and, after this work was well under way, Councilman Sisson and a number of property owners started a movement to continue the widening and repaving of Marietta street from North avenue to where the county had agreed to do the paving to the city limits. The property owners agreed to give 10 feet on the north side of the street, and raised over $30,000 in cash. The city made appropriations, and so did the street car company. Still later, so important was the improvement of Marietta street considered, property owners decided to move the street between Thurman and Simpson 60 feet to the north, thereby taking out a sharp and dangerous curve. This work is now progressing rapidly. The finance committee has been asked for appropriation of $36,000 this year, and this amount is all that will be needed to make Marietta street a 60-foot thoroughfare, with a fine smooth pavement from the center of the city to the city limits, where it will connect with one of the best country roads coming into Atlanta. It seems a certainty that the finance committee will provide the money without fail.

Other Important Street Work.

AND "HAPPY ANDY" HANDS PHILANDER HIS CABINET JOB

Carnegie, Hard Pressed, Admits Knox Was Made Attorney General at Former's Request.

KNOX WAS THE COUNSEL FOR CARNEGIE COMPANY

And Inference Is That Carnegie Wanted an Attorney General for United States Who Wouldn't Make Trouble. Says Knox Kept Him in Ignorance of Anti-Trust Law.

KNOX REFUSES TO COMMENT ON CARNEGIE'S TESTIMONY

Washington, January 11.—Secretary of State Knox tonight declined to comment on Andrew Carnegie's testimony. The inference that Mr. Knox was appointed attorney general by President McKinley in 1901 on Mr. Carnegie's recommendation was, however, characterized as "absurd" by an intimate friend of the secretary of state, who spoke in his behalf. Mr. McKinley's desire to have Mr. Knox in the cabinet was said to have been based on a personal friendship of twenty-five years.

Washington, January 11.—Andrew Carnegie, pressed hard today by members of the house steel investigation committee, admitted he recommended the appointment of Philander C. Knox, the present secretary of state, as attorney general in President McKinley's cabinet, in 1901, Mr. Knox having been one of the chief counsellors for the Carnegie Steel Company since 1890, when the Sherman anti-trust law was passed.

Mr. Carnegie repeatedly had declared before the committee he never knew the participation of his company in the steel plate pool, and other like pools, was unlawful, and Representative McGillicuddy, of Maine, sought to show that he had recommended to President McKinley the appointment of Mr. Knox after the latter, as counsel for his company, had left him in ignorance of the government statutes so many years.

Mr. Carnegie also told the committee he believed no protective tariff was necessary on steel rails or steel products with the exception of needles that are not manufactured in this country. He asserted that congress need have no fear that foreign rails will flood the United States if the tariff were removed.

Bad Half Hour for Andy.

The iron master was given an uncomfortable half hour late in the day by Representative McGillicuddy and he is to be recalled again tomorrow, though he urged that he be permitted to conclude his testimony today.

"You said that you did not know for many years the scope of the Sherman anti-trust law?" said Mr. McGillicuddy, in beginning his examination of Mr. Carnegie. "Between the years 1890 and 1900 you were the head of the Carnegie Steel Company, were you not?"

SLEUTH BURNS NOT A KIDNAPER

So Rules U. S. Judge Anderson in McNamara Case.

Judge Holds That Burns Acted Legally in Arresting John McNamara, and Says Detective "Rendered a Great Service to His Country."

Indianapolis, Ind., January 11.—Complimented by the federal court for having "rendered a great service to his country," William J. Burns, the detective, today was released from the charge of having kidnaped John J. McNamara, the convicted dynamiter. All the charges in the indictments against Burns for having captured the labor leader in Indianapolis last April and taking him to California for trial were held to be null and void.

"If I or this court had had anything to do with the arrest of Mr. Burns in this instance I should certainly now tender him an apology," said Federal Judge A. B. Anderson in dismissing the indictments brought by the county grand jury, under which the detective had been held in $10,000 bail. "The order which the court shall enter will make it impossible for any prosecutions to be brought under the indictments."

Burns Within the Law.

The court held that when Burns and James Hosick, a detective of Los Angeles, arrested McNamara on a requisition from the governor of California and honored by the governor of Indiana, they acted legally under the federal statutes and any confict of state law with the federal law, which made it possible to bring an indictment, was not constitutional.

The federal constitution and congress, the court said, had delegated to the governors of the states the power of honoring requisitions for fugitives from justice and the Indiana legislature had no legal right to take this power from the governor and add it to the duties of a county judge. The indictments against Burns and Hosick had alleged that McNamara was denied a right to resist extradition in a county court.

Judge Anderson indicated if Hosick, who also was indicted, petitioned for release the release would be granted.

Statement By Burns.

Detective Burns in a statement said:

"Ever since my arrest I have contended there was no justification in prosecuting me. Then I repeatedly asked for a prompt trial, but this was denied by the county authorities; at the time I regarded it as an attempt to hamper my activities at Los Angeles. I am still working on this dynamite conspiracy and constantly turning up more evidence. I am as-

Sensational Evidence Against Labor Leaders at Los Angeles.

Witness Swears Unions Sent Out "Wrecking Crews" to Break Legs of Strike-Breakers—Six Leaders Accused of Conspiracy to Dynamite.

Los Angeles, January 11.—Six union labor men, all members of the committee which directed the strike of structural iron workers in this city last year, were charged today by J. Mansell Parks, a witness for the state in the trial of Bert H. Conners, with having been parties with Conners in the alleged conspiracy to dynamite the county hall of records.

GIN AND WHISKY AND NOT INSANITY

Rochester, N. Y., January 11.—William Twiman, the negro who, after killing his father at Scottsville yesterday, held off a posse and killed a deputy sheriff and wounded three other deputies, is not insane, in the opinion of District Attorney Barrett. In the house, after Twiman surrendered, there were found three bottles of gin and whisky. The elder Twiman possessed considerable property, and the son, it is said, was afraid he was going to leave it to other relatives.

To the district attorney Twiman said:

"I had an argument with my father and got mad and pulled the gun out of my pocket.

"I saw the automobile with the men in it drive into my yard. I knew they were coming for me, and I didn't purpose to let them get me without a fight. I was sure they would get me, so I made up my mind to kill everybody that came in range. I didn't come out till I heard the sheriff say I wouldn't be shot."

The wounded deputies all are likely to recover.

He Lived 106 Years.

Prescott, Mich., January 11.—George Banks, believed to be 106 years old, was found dead in bed yesterday by his son. He was born in England, and came to the United States in 1840.

FEAR OF PLAGUE UPSETS DALLAS

Meningitis Outbreak Causes Cessation of Public Meetings.

Attempt Made to Make People Immune Against Disease by Use of Serum—Failure of Quarantine Measures Creates Considerable Comment.

WHOLE WORLD QUARANTINED BY THE CITY OF GROESBECK

Groesbeck, Texas, January 11.—A quarantine "against the world" has been established here. All persons are warned against buying tickets to Groesbeck, and the statement is made that they will not be permitted to leave the train if they choose Groesbeck as their destination.

District court has been adjourned, and lime has been scattered through the streets. There has been no meningitis here.

Dallas, Texas, January 11.—Numerous prayer meetings here were called off last night on account of the meningitis outbreak. Some saloon keepers complain that business has fallen off on account of the disease. Society functions are rapidly assuming a Lenten rareness, while club meetings of all sorts are being postponed in obedience to the advice of physicians to avoid public gatherings.

The convention of the Texas Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association, which was expected to bring 500 delegates here January 17, has been postponed. The non-medical residents of Dallas in these and many other ways are working toward an abatement of the meningitis trouble.

In view of these precautions, the city quarantine measures are causing considerable comment for not more completely isolating the cases. It is not compulsory that patients go to hospitals. A blue sign is attached to residences containing meningitis cases, fumigation is ordered and the occupants of the house are not supposed to go about in a manner to carry possible infection. To keep them from doing this is proving difficult under the present quarantine system.

Serum Being Used.

One experiment of far-reaching interest to medical science has been started in the Dallas meningitis outbreak. There is an attempt to make people immune against the disease by the use of meningitis serum in hypodermic injections. Under direction of Dr. Abraham Sophian, the New York physician, called here to combat meningitis, two or three such vaccinations have been made, and probably will be tried. Considerable fever is one of the results noted so far during the immu-

WEALTH IS BAD FOR YOUNG MAN

So Says Kruttschnitt, Who Cast Off His Rich Father and Donned Overalls.

San Francisco, January 11.—Wealth is a serious obstacle to ambitious young men, according to T. E. Kruttschnitt, assistant superintendent of the Tucson division of the Southern Pacific, and son of Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance of ways of the Harriman system. The young man, who donned overalls and acted as an engine wiper when the shopmen struck, today put his views in this form:

"The rich man's son who starts out in a humble position, as I did, is not taken seriously by his fellow workmen. They think he is following some whim."

To escape this handicap, young Kruttschnitt says he never has anything to do officially with his father.

TIRED OF GALLOWS IN CALIFORNIA

People Move on the Governor and Prevent a Quadruple Hanging.

Los Angeles, Cal., January 11.—A petition calling for the repeal of the capital punishment law was circulated here today. An appeal to Governor Johnson to reprieve all prisoners now condemned to death until the voters declare themselves on the subject preceded it.

Four men were sentenced to hang at San Quentin tomorrow and after considerable agitation, Governor Johnson yesterday commuted the sentence of one to life imprisonment and reprieved two others for several months. The fourth man, Mark A. Wilkins, found guilty of the murder of a woman in Oakland, will be hanged unless the governor acts.

CONGRESSMAN COUDREY IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

St. Lous, January 11.—Mrs. Lydi B. Coudrey, wife of former Congressman Harry M. Coudrey, today filed suit for divorce with restoration of her maiden name. Mrs. Coudrey charges desertion and failure to provide.

Labor Day Legal Holiday.

Washington, January 11.—Representative McHenry, of Pennsylvania, has introduced a bill in the house to make Labor day, the first Monday in September, a legal holiday. It provides that all per diem employees of the government shall be paid their regular wages for the holiday.

Ice Cream Men Dodge Texas.

New York, January 11.—The outbreak of spinal meningitis in Texas has decided the National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers to change their annual convention from Dallas to Chicago. The convention was scheduled to be held in the Texas city January 17-20; it will now take place at Chicago, beginning January 18, and last three days.

SOME INSURGING DONE IN HOUSE

G. O. P. Rebels Try to Put One Over on Regulars.

Insurgents Bolt Selection of Campbell to Succeed Madison on the Rules Committee. There Was Sharp Debate, But the Insurgents Lost.

Washington, January 11.—Republican insurgents met defeat in the house today in an attempt to upset Republican Leader Mann's power to name all republican candidates for places on the house committee. Led by Representative Norris, of Nebrasaka, who managed the great rules fight of the previous congress, the insurgents tried to set aside Mr. Mann's nomination of Philip B. Campbell, of Kansas, regular, to succeed the late E. H. Madison, insurgent, on the committee on rules, and to nominate in his place Victor Murdock, of Kansas, an insurgent.

Opposed by both democratic and republican leaders, the insurgent attempt was beaten by a vote of 167 to 107. Of the 107 votes cast in favor of Mr. Murdock, 26 were republican and 81 democratis, while 107 republican votes were cast against the proposed substitution.

Underwood Opposed Insurgents.

The nomination of Murdock by Norris came after the nomination of Campbell by Democratic Leader Underwood, who informed the house that Mr. Campbell's name had been presented to him by Mr. Mann. Mr. Underwood exhorted the democrats to uphold the republican leader, whom the republican caucus had authorized to select comembers for the republican side.

Representative Norris attacked both the caucus method of selecting committees and the right of either party to prevent open nomination on the floor. Mr. Underwood declared nominations from the floor of the house would destroy completely the balance of committees, and that the authority of some one to pass on appointments must be recognized. Notwithstanding this attitude, many democrats voted with the insurgents.

Reduced to One Member.

Following the defeat of Representative Murdock for the committee place, the house elected Mr. Campbell. The insurgent representation on the rules committee was thus reduced to one, Representative Lenroot, of Wisconsin.

Representative Norris followed his first defeat with a resolution for the appointment of Representative Warburton, of Washington, insurgent, as a member of the special sugar investigating committee, of which the late Representative Madison was also a member. This resolution was tabled on the motion of Democratic Leader Underwood, 167 to 21. The insurgents could not muster enough votes to force a roll call on the question.

IF GREEK SUICIDE WAS CRAZY CHURCH WILL GIVE HIM BURIAL; EXPERTS WILL EXAMINE BRAIN

Two medical experts this morning will cut open the skull of Sam Soule, the Greek who committed suicide Thursday, to examine the brain for signs of mental derangement which might have caused his act. If the defect is discovered the body will be given the customary funeral services in the Greek orthodox church. If not, burial without rites will be held.

This order was cabled yesterday to B. Lambrides, priest of the Atlanta orthodox church, by Theokilitas, chairman, in Athens, of the Metropoli, the highest dignitary of the church. It was the result of an appeal by local Greeks for permission to hold Soule's funeral in the church.

Funeral Services Forbidden.

A rule of the Greek orthodox church prohibits the burial of a suicide with church rites. This was cited for the first time in Atlanta when the burial arrangements for Soule were being made.

The funeral was indefinitely postponed. Petitions for funeral rites were so many that Priest Lambrides Wednesday afternoon cabled the Metropoli in Athens, Greece, for permission to bury Soule with services, advising that it was believed his suicide was caused by a mental derangement.

In view of this fact, Theokilitas immediately cabled orders for Lambrides to secure two expert medical examiners and have them make a minute inspection of the suicide's brain and ascertain whether or not it was defective. If it is found that he was demented the orders are for Soule to be given the customary funeral services. If the expert examiners find that Soule was rational at the time he committed the act, it was decreed thousands of years ago that he and other suicides be buried without services.

Believes Him Deranged.

Priest Lambrides, in talking Thursday afternoon of the matter, said he believes Scule was deranged when he killed himself, and is of the opinion that he should be given funeral services.

"A brother of Soule's," said Mr. Lambrides, "informed me that the dead man acted queerly at times, and that he was popularly adjudged insane, although, as a rule, he appeared perfectly rational. I also learned that he was a constant sufferer from a painful disease of the stomach, which caused him much suffering. I believe the expert examiners will find that my opinions are correct."

The majority of the Greek colony of Atlanta are of the same belief.

The two examiners will be selected this morning.

a director," Mr. Carnegie replied. "I was the majority stockholder, owning 54 per cent of the stock."

"From 1890 until 1900 you had attorneys?" Mr. McGillicuddy asked.

"The company had attorneys."

"Was Philander C. Knox, the present secretary of state, one of them?"

"Yes, Mr. Knox was of the firm of Knox & Reed—J. H. Reed."

Mr. Reed was sitting at Mr. Carnegie's side acting as his counsel at the inquiry.

"Was Philander C. Knox counsel for the company between the years 1890 and 1900?"

Says He Never Heard a Word.

Mr. Carnegie whispered to Mr. Reed, and then answered that he was.

"During all that period, did Mr. Knox or any of your counsellors ever advise you of the existence of the Sherman anti-trust law, passed in 1890, and that pools such as your company participated in were unlawful?"

"I never heard a word from any of them," said Mr. Carnegie, "and I don't think they understood that the Sherman law had anything to do with our business. I had heard somewhere of the Sherman law, but thought it applied only to railways."

"Wasn't it the duty of your legal advisers to keep your company advised as to the laws passed by congress and the states?" Mr. McGillicuddy asked.

"I suppose they would consult with the officials of the company," was the reply. "I never was an official."

"What did you have attorneys for?"

"To appeal to in case of suits," was the reply.

"Now, Mr. Carnegie, as principal owner of the Carnegie Steel Company for which, you say, Philander C. Knox was the principal attorney, wouldn't you have expected him to inform you about legislation as important as the Sherman anti-trust law?"

"No, sir. I had no relations with these gentlemen. I was simply a holder of stock. Was I, as such, to be bothered by these lawyers, when I had men to run the business for me?"

"Then you were left in absolute ignorance as to the effect of the Sherman law?"

"Yes, sir."

Carnegie Recommended Knox.

"Mr. Carnegie," Representative McGillicuddy continued, "did you recommend to President McKinley, after his election in 1900, that this same attorner, Philander C. Knox, who left you in blissful ignorance all those years about the effect of the Sherman law, be appointed attorney general of the United States?"

Mr. Carnegie looked at his questioner for a moment in amazement. He started to speak, and then, turning suddenly to Attorney Reed, he exclaimed:

"Did I, Judge?"

Mr. Reed, almost in a whisper, and with a smile on his face, replied:

"Yes, you wrote a letter to the president about Knox's appointment."

"Now, Mr. Carnegie," Mr. McGillicuddy went on, "after ten years' experience with that attorney, who did not let you know about the laws you ought to have known about, you recommended him as a proper and fit man for attorney general of the United States?"

"Yes, I did," he replied, "but I object to the form of your question. You ask 'after I had experience.' I had no experience with Mr. Knox so far as the corporation was concerned. Mr. Knox had no official relations with me."

"About the same time Mr. Knox went into the president's cabinet, did his partner, Mr. Reed, go into the directorate of the United States Steel Corporation?" Mr. McGillicuddy asked.

Mr. Reed, appealed to by his client, replied that he did.

Before the ironmaster was quizzed as to his views on the tariff several members of the committee heckled him about the ignorance of his partners and himself about the laws.

Carnegie Wanted to Smile.

"Don't you think it rather unusual," Representative Beall asked, "that so many of these great business men were ignorant of the laws?"

"No."

"Now, don't you believe that some men in the Carnegie Company knew they were violating the law?"

"Now, Mr. Beall, when you say that I can see in your face an irresistible smile," Mr. Carnegie replied.

"I see you are smiling, too, "the legislator answered.

"Yes, let's smile together, you with me."

"But not be a villain still," Mr. Beall retorted.

When asked if he did not think the government regulation which he recommended was bordering dangerously on socialism, Mr. Carnegie declared that socialism had no terrors for him.

"My motto is," he said, "that all is well since all goes better. The world is growing better every day. I have faith in human nature. That's what makes me optimistic."

Mr. Carnegie also insisted that the distribution of wealth from the hands of the few to the hands of the many was increasing yearly.

LANE ADDRESSES FREIGHT BUREAU

Tells of Work of Interstate Commerce Commission.

"There Is No Nation So Dependent Upon Roads as the United States," He Says. Great Work Done by Bureau During the Year.

That there is no other nation on earth so dependent upon her railroads as the United States, and consequently no other nation to which the proper regulation of the differencese between the roads and the shipper means so much, was the summing up of a masterful address made by Franklin K. Lane, of the interstate commerce commission, to the Atlanta Freight Bureau.

The occasion of the address was the regular annual dinner and meetingfi of the bureau, which was held at the Piedmont hotel at 8 o'clock.

Meeting a Noteworthy One.

More largely attended and more noteworthy than any the bureau has yet held, was this meeting, made so not only by the able addres of Mr. Lane, but by the magnificent showing made by the bureau itself as to what it has done during the past year, and what it has already on foot for 1912.

The wor kof the bureau during 1911 was most ably summed up in the address of Chairman Bolling H. Jones, while W. A .Wimbish, attorney for the bureau, also made a most interesting address upon matters which are of particular interest to shippers in Atlanta at this particular time.

Besides Mr. Lane there were a number rof the state's most prominent men, especially the jurists, present. Among those at the speaker's table were Governor John M. Slaton, Judge W. T. Newman, Judge Beverly D. Evans, Judge Hiram Warner Hill, Judge John H. Lumpkin, Judge Richard B. Russell, Hon. C. Murphy Candler, President Wilmer L. Moore, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; Judge Benjamin H. Hill, Hon. Thomas S. Felder and Judge George L. Hillyer.

Board of Directors.

Members of the board of directors of the bureau for the coming year were selecteed by a committee appointed for that purpose and unanimously elected. They were:

S. A. Wardlaw, E. C. Callaway, S. C. Dinkins, E .R. DuBose, Louis Gholstin, I. A. Hirshberg, A. W. Hodnett, E. M. Hudson, Bolling H. Jones and C. H. Kelly.

Clyde L. King, Gordon P. Kiser, J. R. Mobley, W. A. Parker, E. L. Rhodes, Ralph Rosebaum, C. R. Strauss, R. S. Wessels, H. B. Wey, H. H. Whitcomb, and Mel R. Wilkinson.

Dependent Upon Railroad.

"There is no other nationin the world so dependent upon her railroads as is the United States," said Mr. Lane. "N other nation so inter-dependent one section upon another as is ours; no other nation whose communication one section with another means quite so much. Consequently, to no other nation on the globe does the proper adjustment of differences between the public at grlae and the railroads as a class have so important a bearing on the nation's welfare as a whole.

"There are two views taken of railroads, and members of the interstate commerce commission must look at both sides. One is that of the railroad stockholder, who desires to get all the returns possible on his investment. The other is that of the shipper, who would get the maximum of service for a stated expenditure. Between the two there must be some one to decide if justice is to be done.

What the Outcome Will Be.

"For upwards of seventy-five years the railroads of this country ran along with practically no regulation at the hands of the government. It was only in 1906 that the interstate commerce commission was given the power to fix rates, and, consequently, we have ha donly five years in which to try out railroad regulation. As yet, we cannot tell what the outcome will be. It may be that we will be forced into government ownership as have been some of the European countries. However, we are the first to attempt regulation by an administrative board, and many European experts believe that countries now having government ownership would not own their own roads today had our system been in existence years ago.

"Much of the commission's success will depend upon the attitude of the roads themselves, and much upon the attitude of the courts. And in this latter connection let me say that while the public has seen fit to criticise the supreme court of the United States in many cases involving railroads, the commission feels that from no other source has it received support to be in any manner compared with that given it by this, the highest tribunal in the land.

"It was only two days ago that Georgia's own representative on the supreme bench made a most significant decision when he ruled that the members of the commission are really jurors, and that facts must be laid before them for final decision. What more substantial support than this could the commission expect to receive.

Position of Adjuster.

"Occupying as they do the position of adjuster between the roads and the public, members of the commission feel the responsibility of their position and point with what I consider pardonable pride to the fact that while the commission has been severely criticised time and again, never once has anyone had the temerity to intimate that the decisions of this body have not been based upon what its members believed to be right and just.

"Neither the shipper nor the railroads appreciate what the commission is doing, and has done for them. The railroads have been benefitted in that they now get the full freight charges instead of only a percentage of them as in the past, that they are now collecting fares where they once carried thousands upon passes, and, that, in times of panic they are literally forced into taking their full tariffs, and thus out of receiverships.

"We have a national railroad system and a national commercial system, and the man who does injustice to the railroads intentionally is the country's worst enemy. For with this injustice done, should the courts fail to take action, railroad investments would become undesirable, the commerce of the country will become circumscribed and the development chceked."

Tribute to Clements.

In opening, Mr. Lane paid a glowing tribute to Judson C. Clements, from whom he read a telegram, "Give my love to Georgia." He told of The Georgian's magnificent work on the board, and concluded by saying that, in the opinion of his associates, Mr. Clements would fill with honor to himself and added glory to Georgia either the highest place in the supreme court or the presidential chair.

"I have enjoyed my day in Atlanta, moving among and meeting your citizens, more than I can tell," said Mr. Lane. "I can recall no day ever spent anywhere save in my own golden west where I have enjoyed myself quite so much. I have heard the wonderful story of your wonderful city often told, but it was not until I came here that I caught something of the spirit which raised the city from the ruins of the civil war, and is now attracting the gaze of not only the nation but the world.

"There is a kinship between the south and the west such as exists between no other two sections of the country. We of the west and you of the south have ideas and ideals and sympathies in common which makes us kin.

"And this resemblance makes sure that the next great movement in this country, economically and industrially, will be in the south. You are great today, but there is yet greater things for you, rich today, but destined to be richer far in the not far distant future."

Work of the Bureau.

In his address Chairman Jones told most interestingly of what the bureau has accomplished during the past year for Atlanta shippers and the city's commercial interests, and talked no less interestingly of plans for the future.

He showed how the bureau was instrumental in having local switching charges reduced, saving shippers here thousands of dollars annually; how an increase of rates to the southwest was prevented by the bureau, and how the organization is now working, with every hope of success, for remedying many apparent discriminations against this city in the matter of freight rates.

"After careful investigation," he said, "it is found that freight rates are out of line in many sections of this territory, and arrangements have been made to file complaint with the interstate commerce commission for an adjustment. T oopen a market for the merchants and manufacturers of Atlanta and to dispose of their goods is the proposed work of the Atlanta freight bureau.

He also explained the complaint being drawn for file with the interstate commerce commission in regard to express rates, which he charges have not been adjusted since fifty years ago.

Method of Operation.

In his speech W. A. Wimbish, counsel for the bureau, told of the method of operation; of several important cases, and of the plans for the future, which were intended to bring about a revolution in the railway and manufacturing situation of Atlanta.

"While at times the issues between the bureau and the railways have been tense," he said, "it is gratifying to realize that the carriers have recognized in the bureau a conservative force to which they cannot be unresponsive."

He gave interesting versions of the "Nashville re-billing" case, the "western rate" case, the "eastern rate" case, the southwestern advance in rates, the "shoe rate" case, and of an exhaustive investigation into the affairs of the express companies with a view of prescribing a basis for rates.

Why Atlanta Grows.

"The freight rates on articles and commodities manufactured in or near Atlanta," he said, "to points of destination in consuming territory have been more favorable to Atlanta than other rates. Because of this fact, Atlanta has been enabled to grow and expand industrially. We ask for no preference in rates. All that the bureau demands is equality of opportunity, the removal of preference and discriminations so that the 'race may be to the swift, and the battle to the strong.' If, then, we cannot succeed, we shall deserve failure.

"The irresistible trend of legislation and of judicial decision supported by an enlightened public policy, is toward this equality, which eventually will be attained."

BANK AT ATHENS CLOSES ITS DOORS

Athens, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) A notice was posted at 1 o'clock by the Athens Bank and Trust Company announcing that it was temporarily closed.

It was stated that an expert accountant from the office of the state treasurer had been asked for to make an examination.

Assurances are given that every depositor will be paid and that the stockholders will not lose.

The officers of the bank are: J. W. Griffin, president; S. Bernstein, vice president; R. H. McCrary, cashier.

The most of the stockholders reside out of town. Mr. McCrary is also president of the banks at Gillsville, Bostwisk and Bishop. These banks are not affected.

President Griffin says the bank will open after its affairs are adjusted.

The capital stock of the bank is $100,000.

CALLED TRAITOR TO GOD AND MAN

Boston, January 11.—Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, condemned to death Tuesday for the murder of Avis Linnell, his former sweetheart, was scathingly denounced in an address made by President George E. Horr today to the students of the Newton Theological institute, of which Richeson is a graduate. President Horr, who was to have solemnized the marriage of the pastor to Miss Violet Edmands, described Richeson as "a scoundrel," "a man convicted of colossal crimes," and "a traitor to God and man."

Of Richeson's relations with Avis Linnell, President Horr said:

"After this girl had been debauched there was but one course open to Richeson, and that was to marry her, but the vision of wealth and social standing had dawned on him. To carry out his purpose it was necessary to make way with the girl who had become his victim.

"Richeson is only exceptional in the cold-blooded heartlessness with which he subordinated every consideration of honor and fidelity to his own egotism—to his pleasure and to his ambition."

It is expected that within the next two weeks an appeal will be sent to Governor Foss and the legislative council in an effort to save the life of Mr. Richeson.

The fight for a commutation of the sentence will be financed by Moses Grant Edmands, father of Miss Violet Edmands. He has retained faith in the minister, believing him mentally unbalanced when he gave Miss Linnell the poison which caused her death.

It also transpired that counsel for Richeson will seek a rehearing of the proceedings in court on January 9, on the ground that mental condition of Richeson was such at the time he pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree that he was unable to fully comprehend the nature of that act. This move will have to be made in the supreme judicial court, and, if the contention of the defense is sustained the case will have to go again to the superior court, there to be disposed of as if no previous action had been taken.

Valuable Advice About PILES AND FISTULA By DR. HATHAWAY & CO.

Piles and Fistula are the two most common as well as the most painful and annoying affections of the rectum. While both of these affections are sometimes met with in people who seem to be in perfect health in every other way, in the majority of cases some other disturbances of the stomach, liver and bowels will be found at the bottom of the trouble. The discomfort produced by these two affections is often very great, and, although, they are very important for other reasons, the pain alone is often sufficient to warrant their being given the most prompt and careful attention.

Both these diseases can be entirely cured by safe, mild and pleasant methods without the use of the knife. Any one having trouble along this line should get our advice and learn about the work we are doing in this special class of cases.

We also treat all other chronic affections of the Stomach, Bowels, Heart, Lungs, Kidneys, Bladder, Blood and Nervous System.

We make no charge for consultation. Any afflicted person is welcome to call at our office or write us for our opinion and advice. Every case placed with us is given careful professional attention, and the benefit of those methods that we have found most efficient and reliable in bringing about permanent cures.

No matter what your complaint, consult us and we will gladly render you all the assistance possible in regaining your health and vigor.

STEALS RIDE IN ICE CAR; THAWED OUT BY POLICE

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Almost frozen stiff, John Cavaniss, a laborer, was pulled from a refrigerator car in the Seaboard Air Line railroad yards today by Watchman Thompson. The man could not talk when he arrived at the police station and had to be thawed out.

Cavaniss declared he didn't know what manner of car he was crawling into when he started on his trip homeward. He was almost frozen when he got into the car.

When arraigned before Recorder Schwartz in police court, charged with stealing a ride, Cavaniss said he could not walk 800 miles and that he was trying to get back to his home. He didn't know the car was a freezing plant. The recorder gave the man sixty days on the farm.

DAIRY ON WHEELS WILL TOUR SOUTH

Southern Railway to Give Big Boost to Dairying.

Commencing February 1, Special Car Fitted Up Like a Complete Farm Dairy, With Experts, Will Tour Length and Breadth of System.

Washington, January 11.—Realizing the need of the south for more and better dairies and the large profits which can be made in that favorable region by dairymen who will fill the great demand of the cities for dairy products, President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, following the custom of that company in furthering in every way the growth and development of its territory, has equipped a special dairy car, which, beginning the 1st of February, 1912, will be run over the length and breadth of this great system, spreading the doctrine of more and better cows and, by means of lectures, demonstrations and exhibits, doing everything possible to develop and improve the dairy industry along its lines in the southeastern states.

This dairy special will be under the direct supervision of Dr. C. M. Morgan, of Washington, D. C., the Southern railway's dairy agent. Dr. Morgan will be assisted by two regular dairymen in conducting the work, and from time to time the car will be occupied by dairy experts from the United States department of agriculture, the state boards of agriculture and from the agricultural stations of the various states along the Southern railway, the plan being to have the utmost co-operation of all forces for the campaign, which will inevitably result in larger profits and increased prosperity for southern dairymen through better knowledge of their especial problems and how to meet them.

Complete Farm Dairy.

The dairy special is fitted up with a complete farm dairy, every piece of machinery and apparatus necessary to the economical production of milk, cream and butter having been installed under the direction of Dr. Morgan. There will be a separator, churns, testers, sterilizer, Pasteurizing apparatus and exhibits of various kinds of improved machinery for dairying. On the walls of the car will be charts and large views dealing with dairy subjects, showing the fundamental principles of breeding dairy types, feeding animals, the care of dairy cattle and pictures of famous animals in the dairy world. No feature has been omitted for instruction in better dairying.

The special will also have stereopticon lantern and slides, permitting illustrated lectures at the various stops by Dr. Morgan and the other experts who will accompany the car. Free testing of milk brought to the special will be another important feature of the work, by means of which practical advices based on actual conditions can be given each man. Cows will be examined and reported on and instructions as to their care given.

Many Stops On Schedule.

Advance schedules of the stops will be prepared and full advertisement given the train in the towns at which lectures and demonstrations are to take place. The press along the route will be kept informed in advance and all possible publicity secured for the benefit of the dairymen. It is expected that large crowds will be present at these stops and everything is being done to give thorough attention to every detail of the work.

Every man interested in dairying in any way should by all means be present at these free lectures and demonstrations, to listen to the talks, to see the improved machinery and labor-saving devices and to secure advice on any problem connected with the dairy industry.

INSURGENT CLOUD OVER CITY MONEY

Finance Committee Endeavoring to Please All Boards.

All Departments Are Heard From at Executive Session Yesterday, But No Plan Is Fixed On for Apportionment of the Funds.

The finance committee of council held another all-day executive session yesterday for the purpose of hearing from the heads of departments in regard to what appropriations would be needed this year for the current expenses of the city government.

All the departments want increases, and the committee is carefully investigating the demands that are being made with a view of giving what money is actually needed and yet economizing as far as possible in order to take care of the heavy demands that are being made for street improvements.

May Finish Saturday Night.

The committee will probably finish its work Saturday night, and be in a position to report the January apportionment sheet to council next Monday afternoon. Under an agreement, no action will be taken on the sheet until Thursday afternoon, in order that all members of council may make a careful study of the appropriations that the committee has agreed upon.

If the finance committee insists upon any plan to apportion the money to the various departments, to the council committees and to the different boards, so as to not leave it optional how the money is to be spent, there is likely to be some very strong opposition by council members who are not on the finance committee.

Those who are said to be ready to make a fight against the apportionment sheet are being called "insurgents," and these so-called insurgents, it is understood, have already held a conference in order to present an organized fight if such becomes necessary.

Will Make Vigorous Protest.

Members of the city boards, it is stated, will make a vigorous protest against the finance committee stating in the apportionment sheet how the money appropriated shall be spent, as they claim this would be unjust and unfair to the departments. Take, for instance, the street committee, to which, in the past, a lump sum has been appropriated for street work and the money expended by the councilmen from each ward upon such streets as they decided to select. Under the proposed plan of the finance committee, it is claimed, the street committee will be directed to use the money on certain streets named in the apportionment sheet.

They Say, "Just Wait."

Members of the finance committee, however, stated Thursday morning that there would be nothing done which would be objected to by the boards and other committees. They said that the committee should not be criticised until its report was made out.

There has been some talk about a caucus or conference between councilmen and board members, and this may probably materialize if it is still believed that the finance committee intends to dictate how every dollar of the city's money is to be expendeed. It is possible that even some of the members of the finance committee may join the so-called "insurgents."

SOLDIER WHO STORMED THE STATION IS FINED

The soldier of the Seventeenth infantry who stormed the police station with a rock Wednesday night was looted of his money by the city yesterday, when he was fined $15 and costs or thirty days' imprisonment by Judge Broyles. In addition his captain notified Judge Broyles that the man would be dealt with at the fort.

"Where are you from, Hill?" asked the judge of the prisoner. Tyler Hill was the name the man had given.

"Kentucky, sir; been in the army eight months."

"Breathitt county?"

"No, sir," was the answer, with a gleam of amusement; "Christian county," with emphasis.

Hill stated that he threw the rock from "meanness," as he had no other reason. He readily admitted his guilt, despite the fact that several comrades, "looking right at him," were willing to swear at the time that he had not done it. The rock broke two window panes and was saved from hitting persons inside by the sash.

WILL WAGE WAR AGAINST FIRES

Georgia Organization Will Be Formed at Meeting on January 23.

To discuss plans for fire prevention and fire protection and to organize a state society for the prevention of fire, representatives of the leading insurance companies and some of Atlanta's prominent officials will hold a meeting at the Piedmont convention hall at 10 o'clock on the morning of January 23. Invitations have been sent to Governor J. M. Slaton, Mayor Winn, the city council and Fire Chief Cummings.

The purpose of the society is to cut down the annual fire losses in the state by educating the people in the methods of fire prevention and by securing proper legislation along preventive lines.

Membership in the new organization will not be confined to insurance men, but architects, city officials, private citizens, all who are interested in the question of preventing fires, will be eligible.

F. C. Calkins, special agent for the Northern Assurance Company of London, will make an address, showing how great are the annual losses by fire, and pointing out some remedial measures.

SAVANNAH DAUGHTERS PLAN NEW MONUMENT

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—At the regular meeting yesterday afternoon of the Savannah chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, it was decided to erect a new monument to the confederate dead in the park extension. The one there now is to be torn down.

The present monument is built of Canadian sandstone, because when it was erected there were no marble quarries in the south, and the ladies having its erection in charge declined to use material from any of the northern states. The duty paid on the sandstone cost more than the material. The monument is now crumbling, and it is necessary to build another.

STATE COLLEGE ARRANGES ITINERANT FARM SCHOOLS

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Through the co-operation of the Central of Georgia railway agricultural department, the State Agricultural college has arranged to conduct eighteen itinerant agricultural schools in as many cities evenly distributed throughout the state.

Announcement of the plan for conducting the schools was made here today by Agricultural Agent J. F. Jackson, of the Central. To demonstrate the practicability of farming methods advocated by the state college and to disseminate the latest ideas on farming subjects are the objects of the school. There will be six or eight trained agriculturalists to conduct the school and give lectures on timely subjects. The Central has placed at the disposal of the college associate a baggage car, and this will be used to carry condensed exhibits and apparatus for the demonstration of dairying, fruit-growing and other agricultural work. Each of the schools will last four days. They will be well advertised in the various sections, and it is expected that large crowds will attend them.

Special attention will be given at the schools to modern dairying methods. The lecturers will carry the necessary apparatus to demonstrate sanitary dairying. Another farming work to which special attention will be devoted will be the growing of trees, with demonstrations of grafting and budding.

Following are the places at which the schools will be held, with the dates: Washington, January 15; Eatonton, January 17; Louisville, January 22; Carrollton, January 24; Barnesville, January 29; Perry, January 31; Edison, February 5; Bainbridge, February 7; Quitman, February 12; Valdosta, February 14; Douglas, February 19; Moultrie, February 21; Rochelle, February 26; Jackson, February 28; Fayetteville, March 4; Dalton, March 6; Ellijay, March 11; Hartwell, March 13.

GEORGIA AND FLORIDA ADOPT HINE SYSTEM

The Hine system of railway organization has been adopted by the Georgia and Florida railrotd. In addition announcement is made of the appointment of a number of new officials of this road.

The Hine system, which is named after its originator, Major Charles Hine, has been tried with unfailing success by a number of railroads in different sections of the country and the executive committee of the Georgia and Florida feel that in putting in this system the road has made a distinct step forward. The principal features of the system is the element of personal responsibility on the part of employees and the doing away with considerable red tape.

The following appointments of officials are announced: A. Pope, assistant general manager, with office at Augusta, Ga.; H. C. McFadden, traffic manager, with office at Augusta, Ga.; D. F. Kirkland, superintendent, with office at Douglas, Ga.; assistant traffic managers, C. H. Gattis, J. M. Crute, W. E. Blitchington; assistant auditors, W. H. Carroll, F. W. Schanck; assistant superintendents, R. S. Thompson, W. A. Walker, J. F. Sheahan, W. A. Swallow, A. E. Curling.

IMPERATIVE STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

While the necessity for the inauguration of a uniform campaign of street and general public improvements presses strongly upon the finance committee and the city council, three individual projects may, from the standpoint of self-evident urgency, be said to have first call on the apportionment sheet:

Completion of the rehabilitation of Marietta street.

The supplying of a well-paved and wide approach to Grant Park from the center of the city.

The improvement of a thoroughfare that will relieve the dangerous and costly congestion of traffic on Peachtree street.

Of these three Marietta street takes right-of-way, because this improvement is needed most—but the other two are of almost equal importance.

Marietta is one of the four great strategic arteries gathering traffic from and distributing it to a tremendous segment, almost a fourth, of the city. Until the property owners of the street, supported from the start by The Constitution, began a systematic agitation, this great thoroughfare, by long neglect, was almost impassable. Under intelligent and persistent leadership the project to widen and repave the street in such manner as to furnish an adequate thoroughfare from the heart of town to the corporate limits has advanced to the stage where the work may be completed this year if council grants the appropriation asked. The matter is one of community interest, from the fact that traffic from the entire city uses Marietta street.

The need of a spacious, central approach to Grant Park, one of the city's foremost playgrounds, is obvious. It is now virtually isolated, save by such routes as threaten any kind of vehicle. Arrangements have already been made for an approach from the western portion of the city, while tentative plans look to the linking of Piedmont with Grant Park by the improvement of North and South Boulevards. Provision of a central route is now the main requirement.

Relief from the glut of traffic on Peachtree is too apparent to call for elaboration. Already it has taken toll of life, limb, business, convenience. The warning has been many times sounded. Unless the load on this narrow thoroughfare is speedily lightened, culpability will be knocking at several doors.

Council cannot, in the meantime, afford to ignore the proposal to close the Forsyth viaduct underpass, and other projects of approximate importance.

BETTER THAN THE FEE SYSTEM.

Another nail was driven into the coffin of the fee system of remunerating court officials in Georgia by the recent state conference on good roads held at Athens. The conference went unanimously on record as in favor of salaries instead of fees in payment of solicitors of city and county courts, the moving argument being that such a reform would, it is estimated, add 1,000 convicts to the state's road-workers, should every county adopt it, and add approximately 700 miles a year to the state's aggregate of new highway construction.

Chairman P. G. Walker, of the board of county commissioners of Morgan county, put the whole case in the following concrete form, his argument applying to enforcement of law generally as well as to the disastrous effect of the fee system on road building:

Since we put our solicitor on a salary it has worked wonderfully to the benefit of the county, and we have three or four times as many misdemeanor convicts working on our roads as we had under the old fee system. Under the fee system the plan is to find out just how big a fine a defendant can afford to pay, collect it and let him go; while under the salary system it becomes a question of adequate punishment to meet the offense, with the result that we have more men on our county gang working the roads.

Chairman Davison, of the state prison commission, whose testimony is of expert value, corroborated the statement of Mr. Walker in toto.

The sooner every county in the state abandons the fee for the salary system in compensating those court officials charged with the administration of law, the better it will be, not only for the cause of good roads, but equally for the enforcement of justice and the lessening of crime in Georgia. Wherever the substitution has been made, the benefits have been immediate and manifold. Fulton declared for the change by a heavy vote, and it is a safe assertion that only a corporal's guard of office holders regret the fact that the people's mandate has been executed into law by the general assembly.

The fee system gives the pistol-toter and an almost endless procession of offenders opportunity to buy immunity. Whatever influence increases the power of money to thwart law and justice is an enemy to the state and to society. That is precisely the effect of the fee system. It should be abolished at the next session of the legislature.

MR. GENTRY'S PHENOMENAL CAREER.

From the position of manager of the local telephone exchange in Atlanta about thirty years ago to that of chief executive officer of the Bell Telephone System of the southern states, describes the phenomenal career of W. T. Gentry, who, as announced in The Constitution, will shortly be elected as president of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company. Mr. Gentry is already president of the Southern Bell Telephone Company. His elevation to the presidency of the Cumberland company, which operates in the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana and a small part of Indiana and Illinois, places him at the head of the local and long distance company virtually dominating the telephone business of the southern states.

To Mr. Gentry's initiative and foresight, extending over a period of nearly three decades, may largely be traced the uninterrupted growth of the system with which he is identified. The expansion of the south and the consequent demand for increase of communication facilities supplied the field, of course. But a less perceptive man would not have grasped the situation, at its every new and larger development, and taken advantage of every opening to press home the indispensability of the service offered by the corporation he represents.

Almost as conspicuous an example of aggressiveness, joined to forcefulness of personality and ability, is the career of J. Epps Brown, general manager of the Southern Bell Company. Mr. Brown's beginning was made squarely from the ranks, and his rise has been as meteoric, relatively, as that of his chief. His fidelity and capacity have been recognized by one promotion after another, until today he is general manager of the entire field covered by the Southern Bell.

The steady climb upward of these two alert officials is not only the most practical appreciation of their ability, but also an inspiration to young men setting out to carve their own careers.

Tragedy of the Billville Blizzard.

"The mayor of this here settlement had two fine mules, but he ain't got 'em now, and here's why:

"There never was a sleigh in town, and the weather was the finest in the world for sleighing purposes; so the mayor took the wheels off one of his light wagons an' put it on skids, an' hitched them mules to it, an' tied cowbells round their necks, and invited the town council to be his guests for the ride, and hopped into the driver's seat, and—away they went for a mile a minute over the snow!

"But that sort o' travelin' was too new to them mules; they didn't understand it—the clankin' o' the cowbells and the slidin' of the wagon, and—well, the town postoffice, being in their way, they knocked a whole side out of it, an' went through the Town Hall in a most undignified manner, an' spilled the town council at different points on the road, and kicked the wagon into the chinyberry tree that stands before Burton's grocery store, and then shook the snow o' that settlement from their heels, and the last seen of 'em, they were twenty miles from home, and still a-runnin'!

"The mayor and the town council are all stove up, but are expectin' to be up and about ag'in, as soon as their crutches come; but the mayor ain't got any mules now—at least, not yit."

SUDDENLY EXPIRES IN SAVANNAH DRUG STORE

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—Philip U. Cairn, of Summerville, Mass., went into a local drug store this afternoon and told the druglst he had a pain. Before the druggist could reach him he took a seat in a chair and expired. Little is known of him here, except that his sister, Mrs. M. McCoy, lives at No. 4 Beacon street, Summerville, Mass.

CHILD IS LOST IN WOODS.

Many Search for Young Son of Harlem Farmer.

Harlem, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) The little 2½-year-old boy of Hart Harbuck, a white farmer living 5 miles south of Harlem, wandered off from home and became lost in the woods yesterday afternoon. The last seen of the child was by its father, who was doing some clearing near the house. The child started to go where its father was at work, but Harbuck claims the child never came where he was.

A posse have been looking for it ever since it was lost. So far no trace whatever of the child has been discovered. Citizens are constantly going out from Harlem to join in the search.

Yatesville Bank Officers.

Yatesville, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—The stockholders' meeting of the Yatesville Banking Company was held Wednesday and reports of the officers showed the bank to be in a highly prosperous condition. A quarterly dividend of 2 per cent was declared and a nice sum added to the surplus fund. The following officers and directors were elected for the coming year: Dr. E. J. Spratling, of Atlanta, president; J. P. McNeice, vice president; Ellison McNeice, cashier; H. P. Edwards, assistant cashier. Other directors are W. W. Childs, W. H. Gardner, J. L. Adams, C. E. Sewell, Z. T. Crawford, G. H. Mitchell, J. L. Mitchell and J. W. Brown.

Gossip at the Capitol

James Jefferson, said to be a member of a well-known family of Columbus, Ga., must go to the gallows, according to a decision of the supreme court, rendered yesterday, for the murder of Policeman Marion Marchant, of that city.

Jefferson was convicted in the lower court and sentenced to be hanged. The supreme court, reviewing the case, holds that he is not entitled to a new trial.

The case has aroused much interest in Columbus, and there were eight or ten lawyers engaged in it whenit was argued in the supreme court.

There is no doubt a strong appeal will be made to the prison commission and the governor in the effort to prevent his execution.

The Vote in DeKalb.

Judge E. B. Thomas, who consolidated the vote of DeKalb county in Wednesday's election for governor and commissioner of commerce and labor, took it to the state capitol yesterday and filed it with the secretary of state. The total vote of DeKalb county was 375 for Governor Joseph M. Brown; 378 for H. M. Stanley for labor commissioner, and 4 votes for the socialist candidates, 2 of which were cast in Decatur and 2 at Lithonia.

Should Help Blind Man.

The supreme court yesterday decided that George F. Rives had a cause of action against the Georgia Railway and Banking Company, because a conductor on the run from Sharon to Crawfordville refused to assist him in alighting from the train, with the result that he was injured by a fall. The court holds that ordinarily a railroad is under no obligation to assist a passenger off a train, but in this case Rives was both blind and in bad health, and so notified the conductor, who helped him to get on the train and who had agreed to help him in getting off. The conductor, however, failed to carry out the latter part of the agreement, and refused when called upon to do so. The supreme court, therefore, holds that Rives has ground for an action for damages for any injuries sustained as a result.

New Navigation Company.

The Merchants and Farmers' Navigation Company, with headquarters in Savannah, and a capital stock of $24,000, was granted a charter by Secretary of State Philip Cook yesterday. The company will do a navigation business on the Savannah river. The incorporators are R. L. Brannen and ... Currie, of Augusta; J. J. Heath, of Girard, Ga.; J. T. Wade, of Hirshman, Ga.; T. S. Heyward, of Savannah, Ga., and John Mears, of Mears, Ga.

Officers of German Company.

Adjutant General W. G. Obear has received notice of the election of officers of the German-American Rifles, one of the new companies of the Fifth regiment infantry, recently organized in Atlanta. They are Captain Theodore Toepel, First Lieutenant Otto Prenitzer and Second Lieutenant Julius Bruckner. This completes the election of all officers of the five new infantry companies, and they will now proceed to stand their examinations and secure their commissions.

Kid Glover's Appeal.

Governor Slaton will not interfere with the sentence of the court in the case of Kid Glover, a negro who is to be hanged at Cordele next Tuesday, January 16. The prison commission has declined to recommend clemency, and Glover will pay the penalty of the murder of Charlie West, another negro, on the gallows.

The governor, Thursday, received the following pathetic appeal from Glover, beseeching him to spare his life by commutation to life imprisonment:

"January 8th, 1912, Cordele, Ga.—Mr. Hon. Governor Joseph M. Brown: Dear Sir: I Be Kid Glover a pour niger who are sencted to hang 1 day January 1912. Dear Governor i will ask you to have murcy on me if you possible can. Please sir give me a life sented dear governor. i am not guilty of the crime. My wife were swore from me falsely by other nigers. Dear Governor i am trusting the good lord. "I ask you in name of the Lord to spare pour me if you can spare me i will be obedient to the state as long as i live. i will make you this promis in the name of the Lord. i am a pour niger. i don't desired to do nobody no harm. i will serve the Lord as long as i live. i will beg you please sir have murcy on me.

"From pour me,
"KID GLOVER, Cordele, Ga.
"Care Mr. Sheriff Ward."

ONE OF BUB, CHUB, HUB TRIO FINED AS "TIGER"

Homer and W. H. Fleming, two of a famous trio of brothers known to the police as "Bub, Chub and Hub," faced the recorder yesterday afternoon. Homer was convicted in two cases and fined $51.75 or sixty days, while the case against W. H. Fleming was held over pending the arrival of a witness.

Homer Fleming was charged with "violating section 1489 of the city code," formerly known as "1537," the first case to come up since the revision of the code. The section refers to keeping whisky on hand for the purpose of sale, and it was shown that he had seventeen pints in his room. The other case was for idling and loitering. He failed to prove to the satisfaction of the judge that he worked, although employed to "put out the lights" in the Cannon hotel.

The detectives say that the other Fleming was given $5 by Fletcher, of Marietta, to buy whisky and failed to show up with the money or the liquor. He will be tried for larceny after trust.

Several other whisky cases came up at this session of court and the old familiar term, "traveling blind tiger," disappeared in favor of "section 1680 of the city code of 1910."

20 ABSENT WITNESSES STOP TRIALS IN ROME

Rome, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Scoring absent witnesses in no uncertain terms, Judge J. W. Maddox was forced to adjourn court Wednesday afternoon because attorneys could not announce ready for trial in criminal cases because of absence of material testimony. The judge ordered attachments for aoout twenty absent witnesses who had blocked the progress of the court by not being present when the cases in which they were to testify were called. These witnesses when brought into court will be required to show cause why they should not be fined $100 each for contempt of court.

NO VERDICT RETURNED IN DAVIS MURDER CASE

Rome, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—The case of the state of Georgia against J. M. Landrum, charged with the murder of Jack Davis, which has been on trial for two days, is still undecided. The jury has been out for twenty-four hours and came in this afternoon to be recharged on the question of voluntary manslaughter. A verdict is expected soon.

SALE OF BEER IS BOOSTED BY THE FEAR OF BACTERIA

Fear of bad bugs, baneful bacteria and death-bearing germs threatens the temperance of Atlanta.

There was a time when alcoholic stimulant was considered an excellent prophylactic when taken in doses of scientific smallness, but prohibitionist orators have exploded the theory. They maintained that under no conditions could liquor benefit a man, not even in the case of the person who wished to apply some of the hair of the dog that had fed upon him.

But even now, say Atlanta saloonists, dread of disease is making their places popular and foam is being scraped off glasses of the near brew even as it is in the good old summer time.

Drinking Cup the Cause.

The drinking cup law has worked this change. Heretofore the saloonist dreaded the approach of a cold wave, even as his satanic majesty is supposed to fear being baptized in a bucket of holy water. Nipping cold meant a decrease of 25 per cent in his business. A snow storm meant a loss of 50 per cent from his cash drawer, sleet and a cold rain meant no cash receipts, but a large coal bill for the benefit of moneyless loungers who had no other place to avoid the tortures of the cold.

Atlanta has been through a week of weather that does anything but remind the populace of the flowers that bloom in the spring tra la and still the saloonists smile.

A prominent beer man was questioned as to this peculiar condition. "This is weather for the stuff that burns, rather than the brew that cools, how is it that the nigh beer places are thriving as they do in August?" he was asked.

A smile of sincere satisfaction crossed his face as he replied:

"The germs have done it. Our regard for health has caused men to quit drinking water to a large extent and they have taken to beer as a substitute. Now, I'm not knocking Atlanta water. Far be it from me, but I am stating a fact.

"The authorities on public sanitation saw death lurking in every drinking cup that was used by more than two persons. They were probably right. I'm not kicking. They passed laws that the public drinking cup must go. The cup went. But they did not pass a law requiring that every man should carry his own glass. Naturally 90 per cent of the men neglected to do this.

Nothing to Drink From.

"They went to their offices and approached the water cooler. The water was there, but there was nothing to drink it with, unless the man reverted to his childhood methods and stuck his mouth under the faucet. That would not be dignified.

"In every office building the cup has disappeared. The hotels had removed their glasses from the corridors. Man's thirst will not be denied. He has to have something to drink. A beer saloon is handy to his office. He goes there. He doesn't want something for nothing. Instead of asking for a glass of water he orders a glass of beer. As a result each day since the drinking cup law went into effect the beer sales have increased. Do we mind it? Why, we're just pining away."

FAMILY SKELETON EXPOSED IN SUIT

Alleged That the Parents of Complainant Were Never Lawfully Married.

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Seeking to defeat the claims of Divola Bell in her equity suit for a child's share of the $135,000 estate of Green Bell, deceased, in Emanuel county, by charging that her father, George Bell, and Blanche Burton were never lawfully married, lawyers representing the respondent, J. Leon Bell, have filed an answer in the case with the clerk of the United States district court in this city.

The answer denies the statement that the estate left is worth more than $125,000, this being less than the amount alleged by the complainant. It is then alleged that Blanche Burton was not the legal wife of George Bell, and that George Bell never married Blanche Burton, but at his death left a lawful wife and child, Mrs. Rose Folks Bell and Sarah Bell, both of them living in Waycross. Allegation is also made by the respondent that Green Bell, the original owner of the large estate in Emanuel, had issue by two marriages. First, it is said, he married Sallie Sumner and left Mrs. Ada Bell Meadows, Mrs. Nannie Bell Thompson, George Bell and J. Leon Bell, all of whom are living except George Bell.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED AGAINST T. L. WATERS

Two indictments for kidnaping and one for seduction were returned yesterday by the grand jury against T. L. Waters. Bond was fixed at $3,600. Mary Reeves and Naomi Scroggins, the two young girls who were with Waters when he was arrested in Bainbridge, appeared before the grand jury to make their statements.

Ten or twelve other true bills were returned by the jury, one being against S. T. Ball for larceny from the house. Ball is accused of having stolen two diamond rings, one from Miss Mary Calhoun and another from Mrs. O. C. Smith, both of whom live on Washington street.

ATLANTA AND CAROLINA FIGHTS RECEIVERSHIP

Denying that there is any necessity for the appointment of a receiver for the Atlanta and Carolina Railway Company, attorneys for the company yesterday presented their answers and demurrers to the petition which was filed a short while ago by creditors of the company. The case was taken up about noon, and was not concluded Thursday. The defendant company denies that it is insolvent, or that there is any danger of losing its state charter through delay in construction. The case will be taken up again at Friday's session of the court.

PASSENGER MEN MEET TO FIX TOURIST RATES

After a two-day session, marked by unusually hard work, the conference committee of the Southeastern Passenger Association yesterday completed its work of fixing summer tourists' tariffs, which will be effective on practically every road in the southeast.

Summer tourist tariff rules have been much simplified, it is said, and, as the result of a change of basis on which the rates are fixed, practically all of the roads will profit. Passenger men representing all the principal southern roads were present.

DOUGLAS WILL SPEAK AT INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Hamilton Douglas, dean of the Atlanta Law School, has been invited to speak at the University of Indiana on the subject of "A Defense of the American Judiciary." Mr. Douglas left Thursday night for Bloomfield for the purpose of making the address.

96 VOTE FOR SOCIALIST.

Castleberry Makes Small Showing in Home County.

Columbus, Ga, January 11.—(Special.) The Muscogee county vote in yesterday's election was consolidated today and showed that A. F. Castleberry, the socialist candidate fo rgovernor, received 96 votes in this, his home county.

Governor Brown and H. M. Stanley, nominee for labor commissioner, each received 338 votes, the vote being unusualyl light in this county. Reports from over the state show that what slight strength that was developed by the socialist ticket was confined to the cities.

Columbus' Fourth National.

Columbus, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—The Fourth National bank of Columbus will increase its capital stock from $100,000 to $200,000 and will have a surplus of $58,000.

JOE HILL HALL TO START CAMPAIGN

Will Fire the Opening Gun at Knoxville, in Home County.

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) Hon. Joe Hill Hall announced today that he would open his campaign for governor on Monday, March 18, with a speech at Knoxville, Ga. Crawford is Mr. Hall's home county, and he thinks it fitting to inaugurate his speech-making there.

"I am receiving gratifying reports from all over the state," declared Mr. Hall today, "and I expect to be elected."

Mrs. A. P. Ellison Dies.

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. A. P. Ellison, aged 72, died this morning at her residence on Telfair street, after an illness of several months. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. J. F. Norris, of Macon, and Mrs. C. H. Goodloe, of Mississippi. The body will be sent to Milledgeville tomorrow morning for interment.

City's Tainted Money.

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—A novel case was decided in the city court today involving the right of a city to forfeit and appropriate to its own use cash collateral given by a suspected pickpocket. In October, 1909, during President Taft's visit to the state fair, a pickpocket robbed the pooket of R. V. Russell, a south Georgia farmer, taking $189. The thief was arrested, but gave the chief of police $500 as surety for his appearance in court. He has never shown up for tral, and the city forfeited the collateral. Then Russell brought suit against the city for his $189, and Judge Hodges, in the city court, today held that the city should reimburse him with interest.

O'Neal Pays for Pig.

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) B. P. O'Neal returned today from Valdosta, where he had a case in court, but in order to have his case tried promptly, Mr. O'Neal had an interesting experience. A suit over a hog, which had been killed by one man and for the value of which the rightful owner was suing, was ahead of Mr. O'Neal's case on the docket, and as seventy witnesses had been summoned, it was likely to take several days of the court's time. So, Mr. O'Neal sought out the principals and the lawyers and offered to pay the amount at stake if the case would be dismissed from the docket. This was agreed to, and he paid over $14.75, the value of the hog, and then proceeded with his litigation, which he settled in a few minutes, enabling him to return to Macon today, as he had planned.

UNBOUGHT AUTOMOBILES NEEDN'T HAVE NUMBERS

Failure of the automobile license law to make provision for new cars, before they are bought by anyone, yesterday afternoon caused the dismissal of a case in police court made for violation of the law in not having a number on the machine. The chauffeur testified that his employer was trying out a car and he had been sent to bring it around for a ride. He duplicated the number of the other car on pasteboard, not knowing what else to do, and the case was dismissed, as he showed his good intentions in the matter.

Several cases have come up recently of tangles in numbers, where the law has been obscure or misread, and have given the police no little trouble. One gentleman, after selling his car, was arrested for speeding in it. His old number was still being used and the law violated under it. Still others are running different makes of cars than the one listed under a certain number, having transferred the number to a new machine from their old one.

INDUSTRIAL FARM IS VOTED DOWN BY FLOYD

Rome, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—The election in Floyd county for governor and commissioner of commerce and labor was practically unanimous. There were very few in the country who voted for the establishment of an industrial farm for criminal boys. Joseph M. Brown, for governor, received every vote cast and H. M. Stanley all but one. The farm proposition was overwhelmingly defeated. The vote in the Rome precinct was 111 against to 17 for and about the same proportion throughout the county. The total vote in the county was about 500.

Rev. Hudgins' Anniversary.

Rome, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) On next Monday evening Rev. C. H. Hudgins will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his rectorate at St. Peter's Episcopal church. The invitation cards are uniquely arranged and carry pictures of the church building as it stands today and the old wooden building in 1887, when Dr. Hudgins took charge, besides a photograph of the rector himself.

Marton Guest of Woodmen.

Rome, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) Hon. R. R. Marton, head consul of the Woodmen of the World for Georgia, was the guest of the local camp at their meeting tonight and officiated in the installation ceremonies. Twenty-five candidates took the protection degree.

MINISTERS WILL ACT AS JUDGES

Men of Unquestioned Integrity Chosen for Novel Test.

The specialists who are introducing "Tona Vita," the new tonic, in Atlanta, are anxious to put their medicine to a novel test by having a number of public men of unquestioned integrity pass judgment on the preparation. They have therefore selected the clergymen of this city and vicinity for this test, the results of which will be made public in two weeks.

"We believe Tona Vita is the greatest tonic ever sold the public," declared one of the specialists in discussing the matter recently. "Many Atlanta people are learning this," continued he, "but many more, who are in a debilitated condition as the result of the strain of modern life, should know what a wonderful medicine we have and how quickly it will benefit them.

"In order to convince these half-sick, listless, debilitated people that our medicine is all we claim it to be, we have decided to submit the tonic to a body of men whose opinion or word no one could doubt. I refer to the clergymen of this city, a large percentage of whom, as a result of their excessive nervous strain, both mental and physical, are unquestionably affected by the all-too-common complaint, nervous debility, the chief symptoms of which are stomach trouble, nervousness, sleeplessness, depression of spirits, little vitality, headaches, dull pains in the back, poor circulation, cold feet, dizzy spells, spots before the eyes and imperfect digestion.

"Tona Vita is a remedy that should peculiarly appeal to the clergymen, as it is a permanent source of relief, acting as a nerve food, restoring the vigor a healthy system should always possess.

"We will gladly give, free of charge, to each and every clergyman in this city and vicinity any quantity of our medicine that may be desired, upon the condition, however, that at the end of two weeks we are given a frank statement of the results of this treatment.

"Clergymen desiring to accept this offer may do so by either writing or calling upon us personally at the Jacobs' Pharmacy, Marietta street, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m." •••

Law Students to Meet.—There will be a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock of the law students of the Lincoln-Jefferson university in room 422 Kiser building, for the purpose of organizing a club and electing officers.

Overcoats Are Stolen.—While everybody in the house was at supper, a sneak thief last night entered the house at 188 Courtland, the home of Mrs. W. F. Evans, who runs a boarding house, and took three overcoats from the hall. The overcoats were missed when their owners looked for them after supper.

Loaded Down With Faucets.—Loaded down with two boxes of new water faucets and with a dozen more stuffed into every pocket of his overalls, Sam Moore, a negro, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Black and Harper, and is being held until the ownership of the property can be proven. Sam says he bought them, but admitted he formerly worked for a local plumbing establishment.

Stole Bag of Money.—John Ridley, a negro, was bound over for larceny from the house, under $100 bond yesterday, when he was accused of stealing a bag of money from M. Robinson, 63 Bell street. Robinson testified that Ridley came into his store to make a purchase and that the money disappeared from the counter, $27 which was wrapped in a sack.

Says He Voted "No."—J. J. West, member of the bond commission, states that he voted against paying for private water pipes, used by the city, with the bond money, and that his vote was incorrectly given in The Constitution. He says he could not vote for such a use of the bond money because he believes every dollar should be expended for new water mains on streets named in the bond ordinance.

Had Pistol, but No License.—Carrying a pistol without a license yesterday got two negroes in trouble, both of whom were bound over to the higher court by Judge Broyles under $100 bond. One of them was a woman, Helen Blount, who took the pistol when she went to interview one of her men friends, and dropped it out of her hand when she saw the police coming. The other, Will Ware, had the gun in a fracas which was broken up by the police.

Bound Over Under $1,000 Bond.—Ellis Najor, a young Syrian, was yesterday bound over by Judge Broyles under $1,000 bond for breaking and entering a railroad car. Najor was caught in the Seaboard yards some nights ago by County Officer Roberts, and could give no account of what he was doing there. It was discovered later that he had been trying some days before to sell turnips and potatoes on Decatur street, and these articles are among those which have been stolen from the freight cars. It is said by the police that the Seaboard people have had considerable trouble with car thieves in the past month.

JUST SLAVERY, SAYS GOMPERS

In Denouncing Application of Sherman Law to Unions.

Gompers Tells of Cases Brought Under Law Which Cause Senators to Say, "Most Astonishing"--Says Roosevelt Thinks Unions Should Be Exempt.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, January 11.—(Special.) Appearing before the senate interstate commerce committee today in advocacy of an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law exempting labor organizations from its provisions, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, criticised the law as being "vague and unfair," and favored its repeal as now construed.

Considerable attention was devoted to the case now pending in the federal district court of Florida, in which a union of longshoremen is being prosecuted under the Sherman law for having gone out on a strike and delayed for several days the sailing of a vessel, thus interfering with interstate commerce.

"Astonishing," Said Cummins.

When the facts in the case were stated to the committee, Senator Cummins remarked that it was "most astonishing." Denying that the district attorney of Florida had hit upon a correct application of the law, he said if this principle was established it would mean that in every case of a strike affecting an interstate shipment, the striking workers would be subject to both the civil and criminal provisions of the anti-trust statute, which provides for heavy fines and imprisonment.

Considerable attention was paid by the committee to the Danbury hatters case, the Buck Stove case, and to an Iowa case in which a federal court injunction was recently resorted to as a weapon against labor.

Insisting that an individual had a perfect right to work, or to quit work; to give his patronage or to withhold it, for any reason that seemed good to him, or for no reason at all, Mr. Gompers argued, "What an individual can legally do, an organization of individuals can do."

Gompers Quotes Roosevelt.

Backing up his demand that the Sherman anti-trust law should be so amended as to exempt labor organizations from its provisions, Mr. Gompers quoted an interview he had with former President Roosevelt in 1908.

"President Roosevelt," according to Mr. Gompers, "said that the law should be so constructed that it would affirmatively state that which is unlawful and omit reference to labor organizations. He said he would take it up with his cabinet during the summer, but that was all that came of it, except that he frequently made reference on his swing around the western states to the fact that the law should be amended."

Mr. Gompers declared that he had been given assurances that the Sherman law would not affect labor organizations, but never took them seriously.

"We do not want such assurances," he emphasized, "either we exist of right, or we should be dissolved. We do not want to be hoodwinked or lulled into a fancied security that we do not possess. The men of labor want to know their status."

Just Slavery, Says Gompers.

Referring to a court decree where the laboring men were enjoined from "going out," Mr. Gompers said:

"It is nothing more than the establishment of slavery to attempt to suppress a strike by a court decree and force men to work at their own peril. No man in this country should be compelled by a court to go to work."

Mr. Gompers appealed to the committee to amend the law so as to make labor organizations immune from its operation.

Dr. Lyman Abbott also appeared before the committee today. He favored legislation supplementing the law, and advocated a corporation commission or bureau. He did not think the government should dictate prices, but when a corporation became large enough to fix prices and shut out competition it should come under the control of a government commission.

COMMERCE COURT FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Attacked Before U. S. Court By Commerce Commission.

Commerce Court Has Been Upsetting Rate Orders of the Commission, and the Latter Body Raises the Question of Jurisdiction.

Washington, January 11.—The unsettled conflict of jurisdiction between the new commerce court and the interstate commerce commission today overshadowed other intricate problems of governmental rate-making considered by the federal supreme court.

The tense situation existing in Washington was shown by the fact that ostensibly over a question of class rates between Cincinnati and Chattanooga upon a single road, the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific, there appeared to address the court not only attorneys for the railroad and the shippers interested, but the legal representatives of the interstate commerce commission and the department of justice. The case was the first from the commerce court to reach the supreme court.

Jurisdiction of Commerce Court.

The court itself was the first to suggest a question about the jurisdiction of the commerce court. Francis B. James, representing Cincinnati shippers, was detailing to the court an account of how the shippers had failed to get a reduction of the 76-cent schedule of rates over the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific to a 60-cent basis. He told how the commission reduced the schedule to 70 cents, and then how the shippers appealed to the commerce court to annul the commission's order.

Justice Van De Vanter inquired about the power of the commerce court to review the refusal of the commission to grant relief to a shipper. Mr. James replied that the act creating the commerce court opened that court to the shipper as well as to the railroad.

Squarely in Issue.

Assistant Attorney General Denison then addressed the court, and the jurisdiction of the commerce court came squarely in issue.

"In a narrow, literal view," said Mr. Denison, "these words 'any order' of the statute creating the commerce court, of the commission, which the commerce courts has jurisdiction to annul or set aside might be construed to apply even to negative orders such as those denying relief or dismissing complaints, but the context and the spirit and purpose of the act show that such could not have been the intention."

Mr. Denison pointed out that in the case before the court the commerce court had decided it has jurisdiction over the orders of the commission denying relief to shippers, but held that the order affecting rates between Cincinnati and Chattanooga was not to be disturbed.

"If the commerce court had concluded," said Mr. Denison, "as urged by the shippers, that the 70-cent schedule was excessive, and that a 60-cent schedule was proper, it could have done nothing to accomplish any result. It could only announce its opinion. If it had taken that view and entered an order annulling and setting aside the order of the commission, the sole direct effect would have been the opposite to its desire; because by wiping out the order of reduction to 70 cents, it would have accomplished nothing but the reinstatement of the former 76-cent schedule, which the commission, as well as the court and the shippers, would have agreed to be excessive.

Increasing the Error It Criticised

"It would have been increasing the error it was criticising. It seems hardly reasonable to suppose that congress, if it had intended to give the commerce court this jurisdiction, would thus have left the court without any means of bringing itself to bear on the issue."

Solicitor P. J. Farrell, of the interstate commerce commission, spoke along the same line. In addition, he replied to Mr. James' argument that the Commission allowed the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific to earn 44 per cent net profit in order that the Louisville and Nashville, with a number of unprofitable branches, might have a reasonable rate. Mr. Farrell declared it was well within the powers of the commission in making a rate to take into consideration all the circumstances, and asserted that it was not limited to conditions on a "bee line" railroad between two cities.

Tramp row in the police station has been the most popular ward of that never-lonesome place during the cold spell which Atlanta has just passed through, and the number of "sleepers" nightly accommodated has been almost as great as the number of prisoners.

With the coming of cold weather scores of homeless "bos" seek the south, and a great many of them seek the police stations, not merely for a place to sleep, but to escape arrest. In good weather there are lots of bunking places, but in the ice and sleet of some days ago the only escape is indoors. Several such visitors told tales of keen hardships endured on the trip south, and not a few had been without food for some time.

Paris May Be Flooded.

Paris, January 11.—The river Seine is still rising, although it is 13 feet below the mark of the great flood in 1910. The situation is considered very grave, the hydrographic authorities announcing the river will continue to rise until the end of the week. This will put all the wharves under water. River traffic of any importance is suspended and the low-lying quarters of Passy and Auteuil are beginning to be invaded.

HIBBEN IS NAMED PRINCETON HEAD

Stuart Professor of Logic Made President to Succeed Woodrow Wilson.

Princeton, N. J., January 11.—John Grier Hibben, Ph. D., LL.D., professor of logic and philosophy of Princeton university, was today elected the fourteenth president of the institution by the unanimous vote of the board of trustees. He succeeds Woodrow Wilson, who resigned October 20, 1910, to accept the democratic nomination for governor of New Jersey. Dr. Hibben is 51 years old.

The election of Dr. Hibben to head the famous old institution was a most popular action, and was commended on all sides. He is a great favorite in Princeton, especially among the undergraduates.

Dr. Hibben was elected at the regular January meeting of the trustees, who had been endeavoring for fourteen months to select a successor to Dr. Wilson. Many names had been considered by the board at various times, including that of Dr. Hibben.

News of the action of the trustees spread quickly about the college town and Dr. Hibben was soon surrounded by friends receiving their congratulations. While in the midst of these he received a committee of two trustees, who informed him of his elevation to the presidency. It is said that elaborate arrangements will be made for his inauguration.

Dr. Hibben later in the day said that he accepted the presidency of Princeton with a feeling of gratitude as well as one of deep responsibility.

Immediately after his election Dr. Hibben was summoned before the trustees in Chancellor Green's library, where he took the oath of office.

The new president was graduated from Princeton in 1882 and since 1891 has been a member of the faculty. He has for years been a prominent educator and writer of philosophy, and is at present president of the American Philosophical society, and editor-in-chief of the International Series of Philosophical Monographs. He has taken a prominent part in the affairs of Princeton.

Dr. Hibben was born in Peoria, Ill., in 1861.

His standing with graduates and undergraduates is shown by the following stanza of the famous faculty song which Princeton men have been singing for sixteen years:

"Here's to Hibben, we call him Jack,
The whitest man in all the fac.
The Princeton spirit he does not lack,
Here's to Hibben, we call him Jack."

YOU MUST PAY TAXES OR BE ADVERTISED

The city marshal wants all delinquent taxpayers to be put on notice that if they have not paid their taxes for 1911 by February 1 their property will be advertised and sold at public outcry.

City Marshal Fuller states that he is now preparing the advertisements and he urges that those who have not paid their last year's taxes to do so at once in order to save extra expense.

"I dislike exceedingly," says the city marshal, "to advertise for taxes any citizen's property, but under the law I am forced to do so unless payments are made to the tax collector before the 1st of February. I sincerely hope that all delinquents will come forward at once and pay up what they owe. It will give me the greatest pleasure not to be forced to advertise for sale a single piece of property in the city of Atlanta."

NEW ORLEANS BURGLARS MAKE HAUL OF $10,000

New Orleans, January 11.—More than $1,000 cash and securities valued at $9,000 were taken from the safe of Frank Vaiter & Co., wholesale liquor dealers, by burglars last night. The robbery was discovered today when the store was opened for business. The firm states that the robbers will probably not be able to realize anything on the securities, and the loss will not exceed the amount of the cash stolen. About $10,000 worth of bonds were left scattered on the floor by the burglars.

BACON RESIGNS AS AMBASSADOR

American Representative Quits Paris Post—Denies Difference With Taft.

Paris, January 11.—Robert Bacon, American ambassador to France, has tendered his resignation to President Taft. In confirming his resignation, Mr. Bacon, who yesterday was chosen a fellow of Harvard university, in place of Judge Lowell, deceased, declared that it had no hidden meaning, implied no difference between him and President Taft, and did not mask a design to help Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Bacon said that he could not decline the honor of becoming a fellow of Harvard, which he considered to be the best single influence for good in America, and added that his work in that connection would be active, and that alone, he said, necessitated the giving up of the ambassadorship, which he surrendered with considerable regret.

Mr. Bacon added that his acceptance of the fellowship of Harvard meant his residence in America and the devotion of much of his time. Moreover, he welcomed the opportunity to identify himself actively with the great problems of American civic and national life.

Continuing, Mr. Bacon said that he would be happy to re-enter the ranks of American citizens at home and work with them for the solution of the vast questions confronting the country.

"America needs earnest and sincere men on the firing and fighting lines, who see the needs of the practical idealism of city, state and national life."

Mr. Bacon said: "I cannot predict the future but I hope to put my shoulder to the wheel and complement the important work at Harvard by service in the interest of the progress of the country."

Mr. Bacon has always been attracted by the power and influence of journalism to do good and perhaps the time will arrive when he will identify himself with the ownership or management of one of the great daily newspapers.

Mr. Bacon is leaving the date of his retirement to President Taft and President Lowell, of Harvard, but it will probably take place in March.

Taft Is Surprised.

Washington, January 11.—News of Ambassador Bacon's resignation surprised officials of the state department, and white house officials, who had not hesitated to discredit the first rumors of the resignation based upon the election of Mr. Bacon yesterday to the board of overseers at Harvard.

The news came so suddenly that there was scarcely time today to fully consider the potential strength of the ambassadors of lesser station and the various American ministers, who, by right of seniority, might aspire to fill the vacancy to be caused by Mr. Bacon's retirement. Of the outsiders, the name of Otto Bannard, of New York, was the first to be broached in connection with the vacancy. Secretary Stimson's name also was mentioned, and, in the state department itself, there was some talk of Assistant Secretary Huntington Wilson.

Says Growers Broke Pledges.

Dresden, Tenn., January 11.—County Chairman J. F. White, of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association in Weakley county, has called on the association's attorneys, resident at Clarksville, to institute suit against a number of Weakley county association growers who have sold their tobacco to independent buyers, for the liquidation fee of $1.50 a hundred pounds, provided in the 1911 pledges. This plan of operation is an innovation.

FIRST BREAKFAST IN FIVE YEARS

This letter will explain in itself the cause:

Atlanta, Ga., June 11, 1911.

Coursey & Munn Drug Co.:

Dear Friends: I wish to speak of the great benefit I have derived from the QUAKER EXTRACT that is being handled by you. I presume no one knows better than yourself the different prescriptions filled for myself containing PEPSIN BROMIDES, etc., as prescribed by different physicians for the stomach trouble I have suffered with, and all of which only gave temporary relief. I purchased three bottles of the HERB EXTRACT and the effects of the same is wonderful. Am now relieved almost entirely of the trouble I have experienced and am gaining in weight and feel almost like a new man. I cannot find words to express my appreciation and benefits of this preparation.

Very respectfully,
J. O. EWING.

Several of the boys remarked: "What are you doing to get so fat?" Now, this case should convince all persons suffering with stomach troubles of great benefits and cures that thousands of people are receiving who are using the wonderful Quaker Extract that has been introduced in this city. If I would publish all the reports received from people who have been made well, it would require this entire paper. Some were cases of rheumatism that had not walked for months, others were cases of catarrh, kidney, liver, bladder or blood trouble, indigestion, constipation, and hundreds of children have expelled worms and today are robust, healthy children.

Call today at Coursey & Munn Drug Store, 29 Marietta street, and obtain Quaker Extract. $1.00, or three for $2.50, and six for $5.00. Oil of Balm 25c, or five for $1.00. So do not delay, but call today.

THE LEAP YEAR BALL WAS HAPPY OCCASION

The one and only time, they declare, when they will take advantage of Leap Year, was the ball at which seventy-five of Atlanta's most prominent young women entertained as many gentlemen at the Piedmont Driving Club last evening. The guests arrived at 9:30 o'clock, and there was the informal gathering in a living room before the dancing began. At 11:30 o'clock an elegant supper was served, after which the cotillion was danced.

The decorations throughout the clubhouse were in charming taste, garlands of smilax adorning the ball room, with an arrangement of palms in the far end and in the orchestra gallery.

In the loggia there was the usual grouping of palms to give tropical effect, and lights with their shades of rose color.

In the dining room a delicate note of color was introduced in the decorations, in the beautiful enchantress carnations arranged in the center of each table. The candle shades were in pale rose color, and the bonbons and ices were in pink.

The entertainment, in elegance and detail, differed little from those which have been given at the club during the winter season, though a close observer would notice that the dance cards were being kept by the young ladies, who scrupulously attended to the entertainment of their partners, who modestly waited to be asked to dance.

Leap Year Features.

A group of young women went as stags, and occupied a table together in the dining room, apparently enjoying their supper almost as much as those who were attended and flanked on either side by dress-suited guests, though it would be difficult to tell whether the pretty "stags" were really having all the fun they started out to have, or whether they were taking advantage of the Shakespearean philosophy, "All the world's a stage."

The cotillion was led by the young women who have acted as a committee on arrangements for the ball. They were Miss Mary Cooper, Miss Frances Nunnally, Miss Elizabeth Rawson, Miss Charles Owens, Miss Helen Payne. The figures were pretty, and most gracefully led.

There was a great deal of good-natured raillery preceding the ball; many of the escorts receiving from the ladies complimenting them, long boxes from the florists, there reposing in the upper corner a white carnation or spray of lilies of the boutonniere. A local wit, on arriving to be escorted, had with him a large bag resembling that used for the family laundry, in which he said were his rubber boots, which he thought he might need getting from the machine to the door of the club. The young lady declined to carry the bag, though she did hand to him the conventional bag holding her little storm shoes.

There was a notable falling off of the family theater parties last night; the informal games of cards among the older set, because all the family equipages had been turned over to "daughters" for the ball. Family coachmen, muffled up and complaining, awaited their young mistresses, and complained against "dis goin's on of 'little Miss' takin' out a man."

Chauffeurs, who are rarely out with the family after 11, complained against the lack of facilities for people in their position at the various clubs, and all the confusion about the Leap Year ball was entirely on the outside last night, on the part of those not of the ball or at the ball, for the ball itself was a brilliant, happy event, though there were a great many compensating people not there.

But Atlanta is growing every day, and every man can't be expected to go to every ball any more than every girl should expect to go to every ball during the season.

Among the visitors to the ball were Miss Marjorie Brown, of Columbus, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Rawson; Miss Mary Gavin Traylor, of Virginia, the guest of Miss Mary Traylor; Miss Harriett Winchester, of Virginia, the guest of Miss Frances Connally; Miss Elizabeth Howry, of Washington, the guest of Mrs. J. B. Whitehead; Miss Martina Burke, of Macon, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Morgan; Miss McDonough, of Texas, the guest of Miss Isabel Kuhrt; Miss Mildred Hazen, of New Jersey, the guest of Miss Aurelia Speer; Miss Harrie Stockdell, of Athens, the guest of Mrs. Harry English; Miss Duncan, of South Carolina, the guest of Mrs. Coleman.

The chaperons for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Payne, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne, Mr. and Mrs. John Grant, Mr. and Mrs. James Nunnally, Mr. and Mrs. George Walters, Mr. and Mrs. William Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dargan.

Mrs. Manson's Bridge.

Mrs. Herbert Manson entertained at a beautiful bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home on Juniper street in compliment to her niece, Miss Ruth Hull, of Mexico City, who is her guest for the winter, and for Miss Marjorie Brown, of Columbus, who is the guest of Miss Elizabeth Rawson. The house was attractive with growing plants, and vases filled with Killarney roses decorated mantels and cabinets.

The prize for top score was embroidered silk stockings, and the consolation was a pink scarf.

After the game delicious refreshments were served at the card tables. Mrs. Manson wore a gown of gray chiffon, and was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Ransom Wright, who wore heliotrope chiffon over heliotrope satin, and trimmed in silver. Miss Hull wore a gown of white cloth, and Miss Brown's gown was gray satin, with hat to match. Miss Sarah Rawson wore a black velvet gown, with black velvet hat; and Miss Elizabeth Rawson wore a rose-colored cloth gown.

The guests were Miss Hull, Miss Brown, Miss Elizabeth Rawson, Miss Sarah Rawson, Miss Annie Lee McKenzie, Miss Annie Laurie Robinson, Miss Aimee Hunnicutt, Misses Antoinette and Edith Kirkpatrick, Miss Julia Richardson, Miss Caroline King, Miss Martha Francis, Miss Lula Dean Jones, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Jennie Hutchins, Miss Jennie Mobley, Miss Marie McIntyre, Miss Mary Traylor, Miss Mary Gavin Traylor of Virginia, Miss Mary Slade of Columbus, Miss Marion Woodward, Miss Emma Kate Amorous, Miss Caroline Muse, Miss Frances Nunnally, Miss Frances Connally, Miss Annie Sykes Rice, Miss Josephine Windle and Miss Louise Windle.

Japanese Party.

Mrs. Thomas Weaver entertained delightfully at bridge Wednesday evening at her home on West Peachtree street in compliment to Miss Eleanor Tolbert, of San Francisco, who is visiting Mrs. Sam Ozburn.

The Japanese idea was carried out in elaborate decorative style, the pretty score cards were Japanese, and the refreshments were made after delicious Japanese recipes.

The prizes, a boudoir cap and silk stockings, were won by Mrs. E. V. Bogart and Miss Ethel Austin, and the guest of honor was presented silk stockings.

Mrs. Weaver wore a smart blue velvet gown, and Miss Tolbert wore black velvet.

Mrs. Weaver's guests were Mrs. Ivan Allen, Mrs. Harry Malsby, Mrs. LeRoy Wynne, Miss Dorothy Breitenbucher, Miss Jennie Lowry, Mrs. Arthur Reid, Mrs. Sam Ozburn, Mrs. E. V. Bogart, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. George Allen, Mrs. Albert Marbut, Mrs. John M. Cooper, Mrs. W. F. Dykes, Miss Eula Sullivan, Mrs. J. H. Whitten, Mrs. Ed Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Tolbert, Miss Ethel Eastin, Mrs. Flynt, Mrs. Julius Malsby, Mrs. Clarence Corwin, Mrs. McLeay, Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Robert Johnson.

Luncheon for Mrs. Buchanan.

Mrs. Thomas H. Northen has issued invitations to a luncheon Saturday, January 13, at 1:30 o'clock, to be given at her home, 650 Piedmont avenue, in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Mary Spencer Buchanan, of Spencer, Va.

Mrs. Wright's Matinee Party.

Mrs. Ransom Wright will entertain this afternoon at a matinee party at the Forsyth, with tea at the Georgian Terrace afterwards, in honor of Miss Ruth Hull, of Mexico City, and Miss Marjorie Brown, of Columbus, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Rawson.

The guests will be Miss Brown, Miss Hull, Miss Elizabeth Rawson, Miss Sarah Rawson, Miss Charles Owens, Miss Jennie Mobley, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Frances Connally, Miss Annie Laura Robinson and Miss Laura Ansley.

Matinee Party for Visitors.

Mrs. Harry Griffin will entertain at a matinee party Saturday at the Grand in compliment to her guests, Mrs. W. A. Patterson and Miss Rosalind Ellis, of Washington, D. C., the guests to include Mrs. Patterson, Miss Ellis, Miss Virginia Ficklin, Miss Myrtice Haas, of Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Charles Lochridge.

Miss Eckert Talks of Australian Work.

Mrs. Henry H. Tucker led the noonday prayer meeting Thursday, and Miss Daisy E. Eckert, general secretary, spoke on "Young Women's Christian Association Work in Australia."

Mrs. G. B. Franklin will be the speaker, today, her topic to be "Young Women's Christian Association Work in Europe." Mrs. Archibald Davis will be the speaker for Saturday. The hour for these meetings is from 12:30 until 1 o'clock, and they are proving very interesting.

The mission study class met at the Young Women's Christian Association home, 19 West Baker street, Thursday at 6:45 p. m. Miss Emma Roberts is the teacher, and the members are very enthusiastic over the study being carried on under her direction.

The embroidery class met Thursday at 6:45 p. m. at the Young Women's Christian Association. Miss Mason, teacher.

The regulation basketball practice took place Thursday evening, and Friday the Young Women's Christian Association girls will play Wesley Memorial in the gymnasium of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Rev. W. O. Foster will teach the Sunday school lesson as usual, today at noon. All the business girls of the city are invited to drop in between 12 and 1 o'clock for this lesson.

The menu today at the Young Women's Christian Association dining room will be as follows:

Theater Party.

Mrs. Ben Simms will give a theater party at the Atlanta Tuesday night in compliment to Miss Aurelia Speer's guest, Miss Hazen, of New Jersey.

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. John M. Cooper will entertain on Tuesday, the 23d, at luncheon at 1:30 o'clock, followed by bridge.

To Mrs. Evans.

Mrs. John Raine will entertain informally at afternoon tea today at the Driving Club in compliment to Mrs. Evans, of Kentucky, the guest of Mrs. Scott Hudson.

Cox-Ramey.

One of the beautiful events of the Christmas holidays was the wedding of Miss Verah Lillian Cox to Mr. Magnus Luther Ramey, which took place at the home of Rev. A. R. Holderby on Monday, December 25, at 6 o'clock, Rev. A. R. Holderby performing the ceremony.

Twenty-one years ago he also officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents.

The marriage was of much interest to a host of friends. The only attendants, Miss Ethel Vandiver, as maid of honor, and Mr. George Snider, as best man, preceded the bride and groom.

The bride, who is a beautiful blonde, is endowed with a charming nature that has endeared her to a wide circle of friends.

The groom is a prominent business man of this city and has many friends.

The bride was lovely in a cream serge suit and wore a blue velvet bonnet with plumes to match and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her gift from the groom was a handsome LaValliere set with diamonds.

The maid of honor was gowned in a white lingerie and lace over pink, wearing a large black picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Immediately after the ceremony an elegant dinner was served at the Piedmont hotel, after which they attended a box party at the Forsyth theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramey will be at home to their many friends at 16 West Baker street.

For Miss Hess.

Miss Virginia Ficklin will entertain at a bridge party Tuesday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree street in compliment to her guest, Miss Mildred Hess, of Lexington, Ky.

The guests will be Miss Hess, Mrs. Charles Lochridge, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Harry Griffin, Mrs. W. A. Patterson, Miss Rosalind Ellis, Mrs. Roy Alexander, Mrs. Ray Glass, Miss Mabry, Miss Spalding, Miss Maddox and Miss May Thompson, of Augusta.

Evening Party.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Wynne will entertain next Wednesday evening in compliment to Miss Eleanor Tolbert, of San Francisco, the guest of Mrs. Sam Ozburn.

Tea at the Club.

Afternoon tea at the Driving Club will be made a special feature on Sunday afternoons, the hours from 4 until 7 o'clock, and it promises to be most attractive.

Tea is served every afternoon and assembles bright groups of ladies with a sprinkling usually of gentlemen, but on Sundays, beginning this week, there will be special features during the calling hours.

Morning Bridge.

Miss Margaret Northen will entertain informally at bridge Saturday morning in compliment to Miss Mary Traylor's guest, Miss Traylor, of Richmond, and Miss Elizabeth Morgan's guest, Miss Martina Burke, of Macon. There will be three tables.

Evening Bridge.

Miss Aimee Hunnicutt will entertain a party of twenty next Wednesday evening at bridge in compliment to Miss Laura Jones, of Selma, Ala., who will be her guest for a short time; Miss Burke, of Macon, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Morgan; Miss Cena Whitehead, of Albany, the guest of Miss Nellie Kiser Stewart.

MEETINGS.

The Georgia Libby Circle of the King Daughters and Sons will meet at the residence of Mrs. C. F. Goree, 1080 DeKalb avenue this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Take Decatur cars, getting off at Candler station. It is especially important that every member be present, as the annual election of officers will take place.

A general meeting of the Ladies of the Maccabees is called for this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, sharp, at the Rebekah hall, over the Atlanta National Bank building, corner Alabama and Whitehall streets. Entrance on Alabama street. All ladies who wish to participate in preparing for the visit of Miss West are urged to attend this meeting regardless of the weather conditions.

Atlanta chapter, No. 57, Order of Eastern Star, will hold its regular meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Masonic Temple.

GARRETT-MASSEY.

Leesburg, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Miss Nellie Garrett, of Sumner, who has been assistant in our schools for several months, and Mr. Roy Massey, of this place, were married last night at the residence of Mr. A. W. Godwin, where Miss Garrett has been making her home since she came to Leesburg. The young lady is a universal favorite among her acquaintances and numbers her friends by those who know her. The groom is a rising young business man, who in his stay of two years as a citizen of Leesburg has made many friends.

BROWN-BERRIE.

Brunswick, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Miss Elizabeth Brown and William H. Berrie, Jr., were married yesterday at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. D. Brown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Baptist church, and only members of the immediate families were present.

The bride is well known here and has many friends. The groom is a well-knowrr young business man, and a son of Sheriff Berrie. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony on a wedding trip to Valdosta.

What Winter Does to Woman's Beauty

("Parisienne" in Woman's Journal.)

"Wind and cold weather roughen, redden and chap the skin. The best protection is a home preparation made by dissolving a small original package of mayatone in half a pint of witch hazel. Apply to face, neck and arms. It will not rub off or show like powder, and it makes the skin soft, smooth and satiny.

"If you now have chaps or cold sores, apply Mother's Salve before retiring. It is antiseptic and healing and is a splendid remedy for pimples, eczema, sores and all skin afflictions.

"Dry shampooing is preferred to washing the head, because all wet shampoos make the hair dry, brittle and colorless. To make a dry shampoo put a cupful of corn meal in a fruit jar, add the contents of an original package of therox and shake together well. Sprinkle a spoonful on the head and brush through the hair, and the scalp and hair will be clean and sweet. It leaves the hair light, fluffy and beautifully lustrous."

A Splendid Sale of Shoes
At $2.95, $3.95, $4.95 and $5.95

Why are Allen's Shoe Sales such a Big Success?
Because, Every Sale at Allen's is a Sale of New, Smart, Stylish Merchandise; be it Shoes, Suits, Shirtwaists or Millinery.

That is why our Suit Sale on December 26th resulted in the largest day's business we have ever had.

Mere reductions in prices do not offset lack of style, lack of sizes, old stock, etc., usually existing in Shoe Sales.

Every shoe in Allen's Shoe Department is less than a year old. The Boots in this sale were bought within six months.

Carpenters will be at work next week remodeling and arranging the entire rear half of our first floor for the most beautiful women's and children's shoe department in the South, and possibly the largest. New goods are arriving for it daily. In such a condition profit is of secondary importance.

Help us get ready for the new, and larger still, shoe business by sharing in these unusual price reductions.

GRAND KIRMESS IS PLANNED TO END IN MARDI GRAS BALL

A brilliant Kirmess on the evenings of February 19th and 20th, ending in a grand Mardi Gras ball on the 20th is the big program announced to close the ante-Lenten season, which begins on February 21, Ash Wednesday.

Professor Agostini and Mr. Lynwood will stage the Kirmess which is planned on the broadest and biggest line of any spectacular success in the history of Atlanta, and it will be presented under the auspices of the Home for Incurables' Association.

Mrs. Samuel M. Inman has been made general chairman, and all the details of the huge enterprise will be announced in a few days.

ANOTHER FREEZE HEADED THIS WAY

Cold Wave Is Swooping Down From the Northwest in a Hurry.

BIG DROP IN TEMPERATURE.

The local weather bureau received the following wire last night from Washington:

"Cold wave; temperature will fall 20 degrees or more by Saturday morning. MOORE."

Look out for the water pipes and see that the coal bin is full and that the furnace is working. Here comes that cold wave again.

The weather office announced yesterday that another cold wave is sweeping in from the northwest, and that the mercury should begin falling rapidly some time today, winding up Friday night with a temperature several degrees below the freezing point.

HORRIBLE, WHAT A PRIZE TO TAKE.

The cold wave was preceded by cloudy and rainy weather yesterday and last night, and the forecast is that it should begin clearing today as the weather grows colder.

The weather man could not venture an opinion as to the duration of the cold wave, neither could he say whether it would be as severe as that which brought sleet and snow early this week, but there are all sorts of possibilities involved in the cold wave now advancing upon Atlanta, and it is well to be prepared for anything.

"There's a certain young fellow in town," said the Gopher, "who is a great hand at getting a joke on the other fellow and then rubbing it in. He's quit that now.

"This young fellow is a great chicken fancier. He caught the fever some time ago, and he went in strong for White Leghorns. He visited several poultry shows and whenever he saw a White Leghorn wearing a blue ribbon that chicken was his if it was for sale, regardless of price.

"Well, the poultry show came on this week and our friend instructed his chicken expert to get those birds in shape to cop all prizes in sight. And right well were they prepared. Their toes were manicured, their bills were polished and each feather was washed and brushed until those chickens fairly shone. Then they were entered in the show.

"How many prizes did they take? One lone hen finally struggled through with fifth prize. If you don't believe it, look in the list of prize-winners and see whose White Leghorn hen took fifth prize."

172 LIVES LOST IN SHIPWRECK

Russian Steamer Goes Down During Gale in the Black Sea.

Bucharest, Roumania, January 11.—The Russian steamer Russ has foundered during a gale in the Black sea with the whole of her passengers and crew, totaling 172 persons.

The Russ belongs to the Russian Steam Navigation Company of the Black sea and the Danube and was steaming from Galatx to Odessa.

Among her passengers were Carl Anuzeff, who recently was appointed Russian consul general at Galatz, and his family.

NUMERAL "7" IS WOVEN WITH LIFE OF JULES FALK

Jules Falk, the famous violinist, who comes to Atlanta for a concert at the Auditorium-Armory under Musical Festival auspices, January 25, is one of the most superstitious of mortals. This trait he shares in common with many great musicians, but his superstition has taken a peculiar form. It relates to the number 7.

Falk was born at 7 o'clock in the morning, on the seventh day of the seventh month, and was the seventh child in the family. To this fact, and

JULES FALK,
The noted violinist, who will play at the Auditorium-Armory.

this alone, he attributes his artistic temperament and his success as a musician.

He says the number follows him in everything, and is his guiding talisman. Some years ago when he played before the late King Edward, the English monarch was delighted with his music, and encored him—seven times.

Falk says that the number seven has been recognized in all philosophies and all religions, at all times in the world's history as the perfect number. From the seven golden candlesticks in the biblical Revelation, down to the winning number seven in the game of dice, the number is interwoven in life.

Falk thinks the fact that this mystic number had a quadruple significance at his birth will assert its power over his destiny throughout his whole career.

TROUBLE RUMORED ON CENTRAL ROAD

Report Says White Firemen Are About to Walk Out.

Trouble between the firemen on the Central of Georgia railroad and the management was rumored about Atlanta and along the line of the railway yesterday.

More than a month ago the white firemen on the Central asked the management for an increase in the wage scale and improved working conditions. The unionized firemen went on with their work, awaiting an answer from the road, but at the expiration of thirty days no response had come. It was then that the representatives of the firemen repeated their request. A few days ago the road gave its answer, but it was not at all satisfactory and since then there have been threats of a strike between Atlanta and Savannah.

A fireman's pay is a per cent of what his engineer earns, and in the past it has been one-half of the engineer's pay. It is understood that the firemen wanted an increase of 10 per cent and a change in the working conditions that would make his task pleasanter. It was stated that the road had consented to increase the firemen's pay 5 per cent, the increase to be enjoyed by both white and colored firemen. The offer, it is said, was not satisfactory.

During the day there was a called session of the board of county commissioners with every member except Judge Palmer in attendance. The meeting was executive, and rumor had it that Hon. J. D. Little, attorney for the Central, was before that body to ask for protection of the road's property in Fulton county in event of a strike, but that rumor could not be confirmed.

DIVORCE CASE TOO FOUL FOR PUBLIC HEARING

Wilmington, Del., January 11.—The case of John Bancroft, Jr., who is suing for a divorce from his wife, Madeline Dupont Bancroft, daughter of Alfred I. Dupont, and the cross suit of Mrs. Bancroft for a divorce from her husband, are being tried behind closed doors. When the cases were called in the superior court here today, Chief Justice Pennewill said:

"In addition to the sensational features of this case and the repulsive nature of testimony which we are informed will be produced, all of which strongly incline us to a private hearing, there is in issue the legitimacy of an innocent child. This is a matter we think should not be given unnecessary publicity, and are clearly of the opinion that no sound public policy would be subserved thereby."

The application of Mr. Bancroft was then proceeded with in private. The principals in the suit are members of two of the most prominent families in the state.

NO RE-TRIAL FOR ADLER.

Banker Must Serve Term in Atlanta Pen.

New Orleans, January 11.—A motion for a new trial for William Adler, former president of the defunct State National bank, was denied in the United States court of appeals today. Adler will now have to serve six years in the federal prison, to which he was sentenced some time ago.

Troup Survey Started.

LaGrange, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Beginnig in the northern part of the county Messrs. Sweet and Smith, of the bureau of soils, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., have entered upon the initial work looking toward a soil survey of Troup county. In this survey is contemplated a soil map of the county, on which will be located the different kinds of soil prevailing in every section of the county. Included also will be descriptive matter as to the county itself, its soils and what the different kinds will produce, the farm prices on an average, the climatic conditions and other information essential to the farmer who wishes to obtain accurate information about the county.

NEW CEMETERY MAY BE BOUGHT

Finance Committee of Council Is Considering the Hollywood Proposition.

No proposition that has come before the finance committee of council, which is now making up the January apportionment sheet, is being given more earnest consideration, it is stated, than the purchase of a new cemetery.

The committee has under consideration the proposition from the T. J. Eady Company to sell the Hollywood cemetery, on the river car line, for $135,000.

Mayor Winn states that if it is possible to provide the first cash payment of $15,000 this year the finance committee may undertake to make a deal for a new cemetery. He says that the city is greatly in need of a new burial ground, as Oakland cemetery now has only a few small lots left for sale and the cemetery is practically closed to the public, so far as the sale of lots is concerned.

If the finance committee can find the $15,000 and decide that the Hollywood proposition is a good one for the city it will place the $15,000 in the January apportionment sheet and recommend that Hollywood be purchased.

Can Work Now

Even Her Washing

When a woman cannot do her house work, she is in a bad fix, and so is her family.

Many are unable, by reason of womanly ailments, weakness, etc., to do the work they would like to do, and some, like Mrs. Ocie Jett, of McMinnville, Tenn., are unable to do any work at all. In describing her condition, in a recent letter, Mrs. Jett says: "I had what the doctors called "inflammation," and was troubled with other womanly ailments.

I lay in bed 27 days, and although the doctor came every day, he did me no good. Finally, he advised a very serious operation, but I would not consent.

As I had often heard of Cardui, I decided to give it a trial. When I had taken two bottles, I was going about the house doing my work.

Now, I do it all, even my washing.

I can truthfully say that I don't believe I would be living today, if it hadn't been for Cardui."

How many women are there in this town,—who are in ill-health, as a result of womanly weakness?

They, all of them, You, if you are one, would be benefited by Cardui, the woman's tonic.

It will help the simple ailments, like headache, backache, irritability, nervousness, tired feeling, general weakness, etc., as well as the serious cases like the one which has just been described.

Won't you give Cardui a chance to help you?

A REMARKABLE EXAMPLE OF ORSON LOWELL'S ART, NOW ON DISPLAY AT ATLANTA'S ART EXHIBITION

Copyright Life Pub. Co.

Is Soda Mixing Good for the Heart?

They are all there—the four debutantes whose social careers are being crowned with success. They are at the art exhibition, drinking soda. They have been pictured there by Orson Lowell, the great pen and ink artist who brings into the black and white of his creations life—not only in the ideals which are his, but the ideals others hold. That is the great power in Mr. Lowell's work. They vary—they appeal to all—for if you do not find your ideal in the first drawing, you do in the next. You are not tired by seeing the same girl posed in every drawing with the same languid expression; the same long neck; or in the sporting clothes in which in reality she could not move; but you see the real live girls—Harriet and Marjorie and Passie and Bessie, just up town drinking soda.

They haven't posed for Mr. Lowell; wouldn't go to that trouble, but they can't help it, if, while they are quietly drinking soda when they haven't anything else to do, some strolling artist just comes along and puts them in the paper. Anyway this is just the way the pictures of Mr. Lowell appear. He has reached the height of art in his line—in pen and ink drawing—that the portrait painter does when he puts life in the faces of his people on canvas; or the miniature artist when he concentrates into the size of a jewel all that is rare in art.

This bringing of life into the face of the subject is wonderfully illustrated in the second face in the picture, "Drinking Soda," the girl in the sailor hat having eyes that seem to move as you look straight and rudely into them. She looks back sweetly, naturally.

The exhibition of Mr. Lowell's drawings will continue through the week under the auspices of the Atlanta Art Association in the Phillips & Crew building on Pryor street.

Mr. Gerald Hayward's miniatures are a feature of the exhibition, which as a whole is one of the most interesting yet presented by the association.

BADLY BEATEN, ASKS DAMAGES

S. Parris Says That Pullman Conductor Was Pugilistic Expert.

Declaring that a Pullman conductor on the Georgia railroad beat him up and knocked out three or four teeth, S. Parris yesterday filed suit for $10,000 damages against the Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line, as lessees of the road.

In his petition Mr. Parris says that he went to the depot to take the 12:10 train to Augusta; saw the conductor seated on a truck reading a newspaper; surrendered his ticket and his baggage to the porter, and then went out for a little stroll. When he came back, he says, the conductor ordered him to keep away from the train. Parris explained the situation, telling the conductor that if he had been attending to his business instead of reading the paper, he would have known more about the matter. Then Parris declares the conductor proceeded to display his pugilistic skill.

W. F. Sparks Made Mayor.

Manchester, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—After an exciting election for city officers yesterday, the following were declared winners: Mayor, W. F. Sparks; councilmen, W. E. Johnson, W. C. Matthews, H. R. Routon and B. A. Dunn. Sparks had no opposition until yesterday morning, when Dr. A. D. Bruebaker announced for mayor. Dr. Bruebaker's eleven-hour announcement caused Sparks' friends considerable uneasiness, but when the final count was made it was seen the latter was a winner by a large majority. The new mayor and council will handle the bonds recently authorized for the construction of an electric light plant.

Demonstrators at Hagonsville.

LaGrange, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—With representatives of the State College of Agriculture present and farm demonstrators from several counties connected with the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., the farmers of Troup county will hold a meeting at Hogansville on Friday, the 19th, for the purpose of discussing improved farm methods. A program has been arranged and a number of instructive addresses will be given. L. C. Davis, farm demonstrator for this county, will be one of the speakers.

Judge Wynn May Be Candidate

Columbus, Ga, January 11.—(Special.) Judge Eugene J. Wynn, of Columbus, may be a candidate for judge of the superior courts of the Chattahoochee circuit. He is now giving the matter serious consideration. It is presumed that Judge Price Gilbert will be a candidate for re-election. Judge Wynn is a well-known member of the Columbus bar and for several years has been city recorder.

NEW PASTOR HERE FOR UNITARIANS

Dr. J. Wade Conkling, of Louisville, Accepts Atlanta Call.

Dr. J. Wade Conkling, of Louisville, has accepted the call of the First Unitarian church of Atlanta and will assume the duties of pastor for the first time at the services on Sunday.

He arrived in the city Thursday morning and was welcomed by members of his church. He succeeds Dr. John W. Rowlett, who resigned in order to become field secretary for the Unitarian church.

Dr. Conkling is known to Atlantans. He filled the pulpit at the First Unitarian church a short while ago, and after hearing him preach, the congregation chose him unanimously.

Formerly Dr. Conkling was a member of the Christian church, but left that denomination to ally himself with the Unitarian. His wife, who has studied nursing and pharmacy and who assists her husband largely in his charity work, accompanies him to Atlanta.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE WITH CENTRAL FIREMEN

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—A conference will be held here tomorrow between the firemen of the Central of Georgia railway and J. T. Johnson, general superintendent, relative to requests made by the firemen for an increase in pay, according to the statement made today by T. S. Moise, general manager of the road.

ATLANTA PHONE HEARING POSTPONED BY CONSENT

By agreement of both sides, the hearing of the injunction suit of C. J. Simmons against the Atlanta Telephone and Telegraph Company was yesterday postponed by Judge W. D. Ellis until some day next week. Answer to the suit will probably be filed Friday morning, according to the statement of Attorney George S. Jones, who states that important papers are expected from Rochester and Philadelphia.

As Quickly as Water Dissolves Sugar

About the Time It Takes for a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet to Work on the Food and Bring Relief.

TRIAL PACKAGE SENT FREE.

There is no long wait between the time you take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet and the feeling of relief it will bring to an overloaded stomach. It gets busy in a jiffy and quickly sets things to rights in that tired and disordered stomach. It goes right at the work of digesting the food it finds lodged there and in no time at all has things on the move—the gases cease forming, the breath is sweetened, the coating on the tongue disappears and you are no longer conscious that you even have a stomach.

That is one of the chief recommendations for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—that they don't take forever to accomplish the purpose for which you need them. It is just as if you put an extra stomach or two to work when yours needed help. You can't continually overload your stomach and expect it to always smile. It is going to get rebellious and sulky after awhile and refuse to go on being driven to do double work. You must rest it occasionally—not by starving and thereby weakening yourself physically—but by using a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet to do the work of digesting your food.

These tablets contain all the active elements of the natural stomach juices and will alone and unaided digest food just the same as the gastric juices. And nothing could be more harmless than these tablets. They do not effect the system in any way—do not cure any ailment except as they digest food. Use them freely.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists everywhere. Price, 50 cents per box. A trial package will be sent if you will write F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Michigan.

300,000 MILL WORKERS ARE IDLE IN ENGLAND

Manchester, England, January 11.—There is no sign, up to the present, of the slightest disposition on the part of either party in the cotton trade war to give way.

The conflict began in December, when trade unionists among the cotton operatives refused to work with a few non-unionists. The employers thereupon ordered a general lockout, involving 160,000 persons, and the movement spread until now some 300,000 workers are affected.

Sir George Askwith, of the board of trade, is to make another effort on January 15 to devise a scheme to allow the disputants to retreat with honor from the positions they have taken up.

Employers in the cotton trade express their determination to insist on the open shop system, but the workers' union will not allow non-unionists to be employed in the mills, and the resolution of both sides has thus far proved unshakable.

The employers are understood to be ready to grant an increase of wages if the operatives will guarantee never to strike again on the non-unionist question. The men have declined this offer, but are willing to agree to a six months' truce, during which work shall be carried on and the open shop question be threshed out.

A meeting of the council of the general federation of trades unions agreed today to assist financially the cotton operatives, and this will stiffen the backs of the workers.

JOYNER HAS RETURNED; HEALTH MUCH IMPROVED

Former Mayor W. R. Joyner, who had a serious illness some months ago, and whose life was for a time despaired of, has returned to Atlanta after a two-months' trip to Texas. He is greatly improved in health.

BOTH ARMY AND NAVY TO USE COTTON SEED OIL

Washington, January 11.—(Special.) The use of cotton seed oil in place of lard will shortly be adopted by the quartermaster and subsistence departments of both the army and navy of the United States.

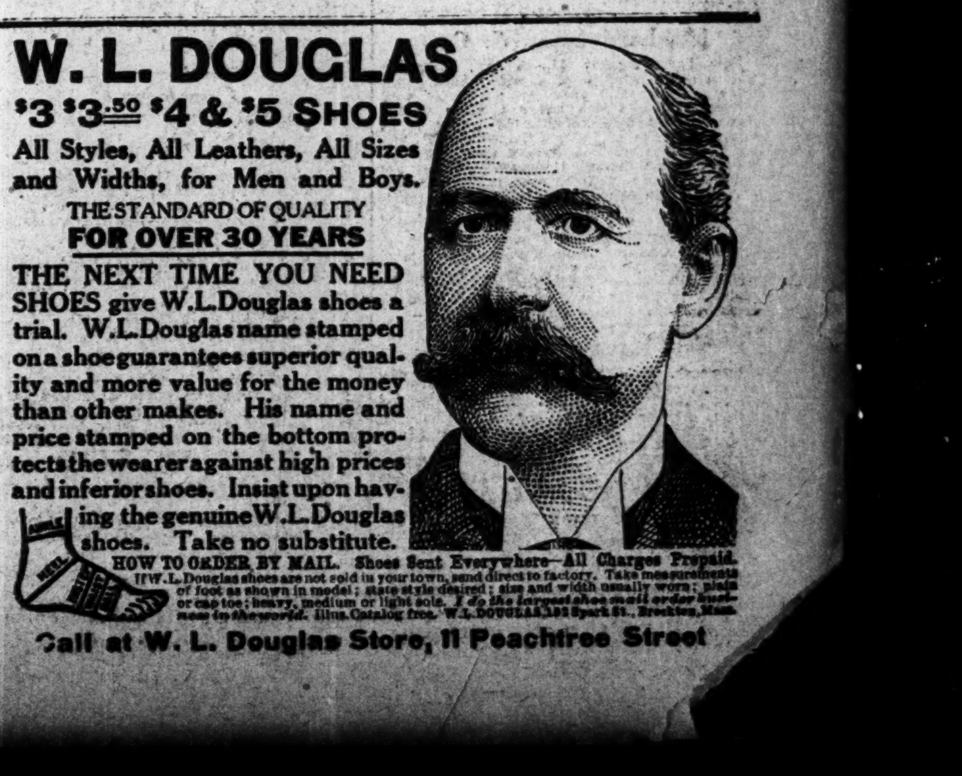

A tentative experiment with cotton seed oil was made last year by the navy on two battleships, and so well satisfied was the department with the results accomplished that it has practically been decided to use cotton seed oil throughout the service.

James T. Dent, formerly of Brunswick, Ga., and now connected with the Southern Cotton Oil Company of New York, has been in Washington for several days working in conjunction with Representative Brantley, of Georgia, to induce the heads of the army and navy departments to adopt the southern product in feeding the soldiers and sailors of the United States; and his work has been abundantly successful.

NEW HIGH GROUND MADE IN COTTON

Market Was Firm and Closed Strong at Net Advance of 21 to 26 Points.

New York, January 11.—The cotton market showed renewed firmness today on an active demand for both accounts, and all active months made new high ground for the movement, with the close strong at a net advance of 21@22 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 6 points on January and of 13 to 19 points on the general list, as a result of large over-night buying orders, which seemed to be influenced by the rally in New Orleans late yesterday, and the failure of yesterday's late reports from southern spot markets to indicate any weakness. Liverpool was better than due on the New York close of yesterday, and the continued big spot in the English market tended to offset the reports of general labor unrest in Great Britain. At any rate, an early recession of 3 or 4 points under heavy realizing was followed by renewed firmness, and the general tendency of the market was upward until in the late trading prices were from 24 to 28 points above the closing figures of last night. The close was only a shade off from the best, and while some recent big buyers were supposed to be taking profits rather freely on bulges, the market at no time during the day showed any signs of weakness. Memphis was believed to be a big buyer here during the early trading, and on the whole the demand seemed to be more active and more urgent than recently. There was no change in the character of the English labor news, and aside from the firm cables, steadiness of southern spot markets and unfavorable weather, there seemed little in the news of the day to inspire the fresh buying suggested by the action of the market.

Receipts today, 36,709, against 48,130 last week and 29,351 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,557, against 11,287 last year; at Galveston, 17,180, against 7,033 last year, and at Houston, 7,550, against 7,692 last year.

Cotton spot closed steady 20 points higher; middling uplands 9.65; do. gulf, 9.90; sales 2,100 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, January 11.—Spot cotton steady, 3-16 up; middling, 9½; sales on the spot, 2,150 bales; to arrive, 450; low ordinary, 5 13-16, nominal; ordinary, 6⅝, nominal; good ordinary, 8 1-16; strict good ordinary, 8 7-16; low middling, 8¾; strict low middling, 9⅛; middling, 9½; strict middling, 9¾; good middling, 10; strict good middling, 10 3-16; middling fair, 10½; middling fair to fair, 10⅞; fair, 11¼, nominal; receipts, 1,557; stock, 282,513.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 9@13 points on good cables on reports that the Lancashire mill lockout had been settled. These reports could not be confirmed but they made shorts nervous and caused them to cover and also stimulated fresh buying for long account. The weather over the cotton region took another unfavorable turn which also helped the bull side.

At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 9 to 14 points over yesterday's close.

Shorts were heavy buyers around the middle of the morning and the market gossip said that several large lines were being covered. Memphis traders were spoken of as the heaviestt buyers of the day and it was generally supposed that these purchases were for short account, although some telegrams from that market said that the bad weather was stimulating buying for long account. Longs took profits continually in a moderate way, but did not sell enough to cau ea reaction.

At noon the trading months were 14 to 16 points over yesterday's close.

In the afternoon session, the market displayed nexpected strength in the face of much profit; taking by longs. It was said that prominent bulls, spot houses and spinners were buying contracts. July was sent over the 10-cent mark. At 2 o'clock the trading months were 21 to 23 points over yesterday's final quotations.

The market closed steady at a net advance of 21 to 24 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, January 11.—The cotton goods markets were firmer and an advance of ¼ cent a yard was announced on all denims made by a leading producer. Cotton yarns held firm with spinners including toward marking prices higher. Openings of staple men's wear show that prices are but slightly advanced on the better known numbers.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, January 11.—Cotton, spot good business done; prices 6 points higher; American middling fair, 5.97; good middling, 5.59; middling, 5.33; low middling, 5.09; good ordinary, 4.87; ordinary, 4.65. The sales of the day were 12,000 bales, of which 2,500 were for speculation and export and included 11,600 American. Receipts, 14,000 bales, including 12,900 American. Futures opened quiet and steady and closed steady.

Sales, 19,500 barrels.

New Orleans, January 11.—Cotton seed oil: Prime refined, in barrels, per pound, 5.40; choice meal, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $28.00; choice cake, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $27.00.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, January 11.—A firm, improving market at an advance of a cent from the low point of the year, caused by unexpected good advices from Liverpool, and a covering demand from the Mississippi valley. The market closed at the hgh point with only a limited supply offering, and the trade look forward to a sharp improvement in Europe tomorrow. There was rather more demand from northern spinners who have not taken cotton as freely as did the condinental spinners earlier in the season. On the advance, there was some selling against cotton from southern spinners, but not near enough to supply the demand. Little attention was paid to the movement, but many suggested that the continued cold weather would tend to decrease the offerings in Europe, so that Liverpool could be expected to be 5 ponts higher tomorrow.

SEVERE PRESSURE BY STOCK BEARS

Heavy Selling Caused Prices to Fall—Union Pacific the Center of Attack.

New York, January 11.—The leading speculative stocks were under severe pressure today, and prices fell. After a show of strength in the early trading the market responded to the effects of aggressive bear selling, and was heavy during the remainder of the day, with periods of pronounced weakness.

Union Pacific was once more the center of the bear attack, and its recovery of yesterday was cancelled by a 2-point decline. The movement in this stock was of the baffling nature, which has attracted so much attention during the last few weeks. As the price gave way the supply seemed to increase, and the manipulation of the stock was conducted in such a way that traders were unable to discover the source of the selling.

Various reports concerning the dividend policy of the company were heard, but they lacked authenticity and attracted no serious attention. Owing to the steady pressure against the stock the December report of earnings is awaited with unusual interest.

Reading also showed pronounced weakness at times, and fell back 2 points. Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Canadian Pacific and the copper and steel shares also were under pressure. Their weakness exercised a depressing effect upon the whole list.

The news from Washington in regard to progress of the Stanley investigation was accounted a factor in unsettling the market. When the government's suit for dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation was filed, it was assumed, in the street, that the Stanley inquiry thereafter would possess little significance, if it were not pursued. The vigor with which the inquiry is being pursued was disconcerning to the traders, who hoped that the unexpectedly good statement of the Steel Corporation's business in December might be used as a basis for a further advance in the stock. The question of prices still plays a considerable part in estimating the effect of the recent increase in the steel business, many schedules remaining at the low levels established after the "open market" was declared.

Foreign bidding for money continued. Offers from London for funds for over the end of the month were somewhat higher than yesterday, some bids of 4½ per cent having been made. With the local rate for similar loans under 3 per cent a number of banks placed funds abroad. Money in this market was abundant. Receipts from the interior are large enough to indicate another cash gain for the week. The Bank of England's weekly statement reported a considerable increase in gold holdings and a large loan reduction.

London was again bearish on American stocks. Prices declined there before the opening in this market, and during the day about 12,000 shares were sold for London account, principally United States Steel and Union Pacific.

The bond market continues active. Quotations fluctuated irregularly. Total sales, par value, $4,411,000. Panama 3s declined ⅛ on call.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

WHEAT DECLINED; CORN MADE GAIN

Heavy Selling to Realize Profits the Main Factor in Decline of Wheat.

Chicago, January 11.—Heavy selling, presumably to realize profits, more than wiped out a modest advance here today in wheat. The fact that cash demand was disappointing and flour business light formed a contributing cause. The close was easy at a shade to ⅛@¼ under last night. Corn showed a net gain of 3-8 to ½, oats finished ⅛ off to ½ up, and provisions at an advance of 7½@10 to 30@32½.

A large share of the persistent unloading in the wheat pit came apparently from a St. Louis trader. Values declined rapidly after the floating short interest had been covered, and it was evident that prices, for the time being, were bare of support. However, a stubborn tone developed when the May option touched the dollar level, and there were signs that the market was pegged at that figure. Offers of cash wheat in Baltimore at quotations materially under what was being asked here had a depressing effect and so did statements from Minneapolis that sales of product by the mills were far from encouraging. Earlier in the day influences on the whole were in favor of the bulls, especially the cold wave and a hard cut in the estimated export surplus of the Argentine. Final trades, nevertheless, took place within ⅛@¼ of the bottom point of the session. Between the opening and the close May fluctuated from 99 7-8@$1.00 and $1.00⅝@1.00¾, with the wind-up at $1.00⅛, a loss of ⅛@¼ net.

Belief that the intense cold would greatly increase feeling and would much delay interior marketings, sent corn to the highest price paid thus far on the crop. On the other hand, cash houses without a shipping outlet, sold freely to speculators. May ranged from 64¾@64 7-8 to 65 3-8, closing 3-8 net higher at 65⅛. Spot grades were firm. No. 2 yellow in car lots was quoted at 69@70 for old.

An advance in oats was checked by apparently unlimited offerings most of the day, but the market finally bulged on an attempt at covering by a large short, who found himself competing with a number of good-sized buying orders. The corn strength was an influential factor. May ranged from 49 5-8@49¾ to 49⅛@49¼, with first sales ¼ up at 49½.

Scarcity of offerings led to a sharp advance for packing house products. The strength in corn had much to do with keeping short sellers from displaying their customary hardihood. In the end, pork had risen 20@30@32½; lard, 7½@10 to 10@12½, and ribs 12½ to 15c.

Coffee.

New York, January 11.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 18@22 points in response to weak European cables, reports of lower firm offers from Brazil, the heavier Brazilian receipts with the appearance of better weather in Sao Paulo and talk of a continued slack demand. Liquidation was very heavy, there was also heavy selling by Hamburg and the market at one time during the afternoon showed a net loss of from 26 to 50 points. At this level big trade interests gave support and there was enough covering to cause a rally of several points from the lowest with the market closing steady at a net decline of 21@40 points. Sales, 155,000 bags.

Havre was 1¼ franc lower. Hamburg was 2@2¼ pfennigs lower. Rio, 75 reis higher at 8$175; Santos, 100 reis lower; fours, 7$950; sevens, 7$705.

Receipts at the two Brazilian ports, 25,000, against 19,000 last year. Jundiahy receipts 9,000, against 8,600 last year.

New York warehouse deliveries yesterday, 13,129, against 16,391 last year.

Today's special Santos cable reported fours nominal and Sao Paulo receipts of 16,000, against 20,000 yesterday.

Spot coffee unsettled, No. 7 Rio, 14; No. 4 Santos, 15½, nominal. Mild coffee dull; Cordova, 16@17¾, nominal. Futures ranged as follows:

Molasses steady.

Had to Be Shown.

Once upon a time a book agent got the Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri, into a corner, and, though his victim was helpless, the agent was not cruel.

"I beg your pardon," he said solicitously. "I have a volume here which I don't want to trouble you with, but I hope you will permit me to show"——

"Don't apoligize, don't apologize!" Mr. Clark broke in impulsively. "I know you've got to do it. I'm from Missouri."

ATLANTA LIVESTOCK MARKET

Quotations based on actual purchases during the current week.

Good to choice steers, 1,000 to 1,200 pounds, 5¼ to 5¾.

Good steers, 800 to 1,000 pounds, 4½ to 5¼.

Medium to good steers, 700 to 850 pounds, 4¼ to 4¾.

Good to choice beef cows, 800 to 900 pounds, 4 to 4½.

Medium to good beef cows, 700 to 800 pounds, 3¾ to 4.

Good to choice heifers, 750 to 850 pounds, 4¼ to 4¾.

Medium to good heifers, 650 to 750 pounds, 3¾ to 4¼.

The above represent ruling prices of good quality beef cattle. Inferior grades and dairy types selling lower.

Mixed common steers, if fat, 700 to 800 pounds, 3¾ to 4½.

Mixed common cows, if fat, 600 to 800 pounds, 3½ to 4.

Mixed bunches, common to fair, 600 to 700 pounds, 2¾ to 3¼.

Good butcher bulls, 3¼ to 3½.

Prime hogs, 160 to 200 average, 5.90 to 6.25.

Good butcher hogs, 140 to 160 average, 5.75 to 6.00.

Good butcher pigs, 100 to 140 pounds, 5.50 to 5.60.

Light pigs, 60 to 100 pounds, 5.25 to 5.50.

Heavy rough hogs, 150 to 200 average, 5.50 to 5.75.

Above quotations apply to corn-fed hogs. Mast and peanut fattened hogs, 1 to 1½ cents under.

Good cattle continue scarce. Market steady. Supply of medium stuff has been more plentiful this week, and prices in this class have eased off a fraction, while the more common stuff has been plentiful at prices a little lower than a week ago, when the market was bare of all grades.

Commission men are expecting a fair run for the next few days, and a better assortment is anticipated with the advance of the season. A few loads of strictly choice fed stuff would meet a ready demand at prevailing quotations.

Hogs have not been so plentiful, barely enough coming to supply the demand. Market steady to a fraction stronger. Several loads being reported for the next few days, which will doubtless find a ready sale at a slight advance over a week ago.

Live Stock.

St. Louis, January 11.—Cattle: Receipts, 3,500, including 100 Texans. Market strong to 10c higher. Native beef steers $4.50@6.50; cows and heifers $3.75@7.00; stockers and feeders $3.25@5.25; Texas and Indian steers $5.00@7.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 18,500. Market steady. Pigs and lights $5.00@6.20; mixed and butchers' $6.05@6.35; good heavy $6.20@6.35.

Sheep—Receipts, 4,000. Market strong. Native muttons $4.00@5.00; lambs $5.00@7.00.

Kansas City, January 11.—Cattle: Receipts, 4,000, including 500 southerns. Market steady. Native steers $5.25@8.25; southern steers $4.75@6.25; southern cows and heifers $3.00@4.75; native cows and heifers $2.90@6.50; stockers and feeders $3.75@6.25; bulls $3.50@6.25; calves $4.50@8.00; western steers $4.75@7.00; western cows $3.00@5.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 18,000; market easier; native, $3.25@5.00; western, $3.50@5.00; yearlings, $5.25@6.25; lambs, native, $4.75@5.25; western, $5.25@7.40.

SHE SAVED POODLE DOG AND THEN SAVED SELF

Chicago, January 11.—While flames were destroying the Oakdale hotel in Austin today, a woman and a man appeared at a window on an upper floor and called to firemen for help. A moment later a blanket was thrown down by the man. Several firemen grasped the blanket and braced themselves to catch the body that was to fall into the improvised life net.

Suddenly, out of the smoke that filled her room the woman's head appeared and she cried:

"Hold tight, men!"

Then she threw out her little white poodle dog. It landed safely.

"Now, put up a ladder and we'll come down," came the order from above. So a ladder was raised and the couple descended safely.

Besides the Oakdale hotel, three other buildings were destroyed. The loss was $50,000.

Club Women to Culberson.

St. Louis, January 11.—The board of directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs today sent a telegram to Senator Culberson, chairman of the senate committee on public health and national quarantine, asking his influence in favor of the Owen health bill, in which the club women are much interested.

BOY QUITS POUNDING KEYS TO POUND ON OTHER BOYS

Battling Minor, the Memphis lightweight, who will meet Mike Saul, the Atlanta favorite, in tonight's wind-up at Staten's fistic emporium, developed his punch punching the keys of a typewriter, and those who have seen him say he can punch like a middleweight.

Two years ago, when he was 20, Minor was a stenographer for a Memphis wire brokerage house, and from that position he developed into being one of the leading scrappers of Dixie.

In his two years in the ring, he has been in seventy-odd engagements of a fistic nature, all through the south and middle west, and in the last thirty of these affrays he has lost but one decision.

The wallop he acquired, aggravating the ivories of a writing machine, is of such an impressive nature that most of his victories have been by the knockout route.

Among the fellows he has met are Tommy O'Rourke, who bested Bat Nelson in ten rounds Wednesday night. He stoppeed O'Rourke in four rounds. Then, he has boxed and gotten as good as a draw and often better with such huskies as Pete Savoy, Young Joe Grim, Teddy Peppers, Sam Willis, a big Philadelphia welterweight; Soldier Burns, a New York middleweight; Jake Abel and Wade Pedlicem.

THEATERS

"The Common Law."
(At the Grand.)

The author and the management of "The Common Law," which appeared at hte Grand last night, made one grievous mistake. They did this when they played pirate and took unto their very own the name of Robert W. Chambers' spicy and popular best seller of recent date.

There is no similarity between the novel and the play, and the play does not suffer to any great degree in the comparison. It is worthy of a name of its own, rather than being thrown on a cold, cold world with nothing more specific to call it than "it."

The only possible excuse is that common law wedlock figures in the plot as it does in Mr. Chambers' novel. It fails to materialize, however. More than the flavor of Chambers in the production is the suggestion of Eugene Walter's idea as developed in the "Easiest Way." In "it," however, the woman is firmly and constantly good, and the man, who corresponds to Mr. Walter's Brockton, has a fine streak of nobility in his make-up, which develops in time to give a satisfactory and effective ending.

A fair house saw the production, and those who came to see something really naughty were disappointed. There was skill used in the dialogue that went far in removing any suggestion of badness, and the players, with one exception, played with a fine repression that made the evening enjoyable.

Roger De Coverly, who doesn't look related to Addison's squire, played Cyril Blake, the Brockton, easily and effectively, and set a pace that practically the entire company followed. Irene Daniel, as "the woman," also showed a fine idea of the effectiveness of forgetting how to rant in intense scenes. Bernice Atwood, Isaac Dillon and William Rath were acceptable in character parts.

"Buster Brown."
(At the Atlanta.)

Buster Brown has evidently ceased to be a laugh provoker in the comic sheets as a cruel managing editor let Mr. Outcalf cease from drawing him weekly. He still holds his place on the stage, however. This was shown by the fact that a wise theatrical management sends Buster on the road after six or eight years of theatrical life, with brand-new scenery, attractive costumes and a cast that cost the management some money.

The play is essentially for children. Even the music can hardly make it worthy of serious attention from grown-ups. It has not the philosophy that kept Buster alive so long in public print, but the play will ever be attractive to the small fry as long as it is staged in such careful detail as it was last night.

Harold West, as Buster, is a decided improvement over Gabriel, the originator of the part. He is equally diminutive, can sing infinitely better than his predecessor, dances quite a bit, and better than all, does not inflict that awful conceit possessed by Mr. Gabriel on his audience.

D. J. Murphy made an active and satisfying Tige. Other members of the company were capable, and the scenery and costumes were refreshingly fresh.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

A vaudeville show of exceptional brightness in comedy is attracting pleased gatherings to the Forsyth this week. It is not at all unusual to find the busy theater crowded at almost all its performances, but when such a condition exists during such weather as has been recorded this week the event is certainly remarkable. There is much interest in the act of Gerald Griffin and Company, the comedy sketch, "Other People's Money," because of the fact that after some of the great big features of vaudeville have almost failed to hold the people in their seats at the close of a performance, Griffin, with his comedy, is succeeding in the task. Salerno, the juggler, is a wonderful entertainer and there are other acts that make the bill a genuine vaudeville treat.

Blanche Bates.
(At the Atlanta.)

In presenting Blanche Bates in "Nobody's Widow," at the Atlanta, for three nights, January 15, 16 and 17, David Belasco, with his usual fidelity to principle, sends the same company that supported Miss Bates during her successful run in New York last season and which aided her in registering the most emphatic hit of the dramatic season. Bruce McRae continues to play the part of Duke of Moreland; Adelaide Prince, Betty Jackson; Rex McDougall, the Lazy Ned Stephens; Edith Campbell, Countess Manuela Valencia, and Dorothy Shoemaker, Peggy. The production and embellishments are the original and disclose the wonderful technique of David Belasco to the most minute detail. There will be a matinee on Wednesday. Seats are now selling for the engagement.

"Gay New York."
(At the Lyric.)

The three remaining performances of "Gay New York" at the Lyric will no doubt attract the large crowds that have been the rule during the week of its engagement at that playhouse. "Gay New York" is full of comedy, good music, and the dainty chorus is a great addition to the enjoyment of the piece. There will be the usual Saturday matinee, and indications point to a capacity audience.

"The White Slave."
(At the Lyric.)

Bartley Campbell's famous southern romance, "The White Slave," which has always been a great favorite in this city, will be given a magnificent scenic revival at the Lyric, commencing next Monday night, with the usual matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. One of the most entertaining features of the new production is the Darky Jubilee in the plantation scene, where a well-trained chorus renders the old plantation songs, which are now little more than a memory.

POCKETS RIFLED BY CLEVER THIEF

Real Estate Men, Connected With Ansley Office, Lose Money.

The homes of three gentlemen connected with the E. P. Ansley real estate firm have been robbed in a peculiar manner during the past ten days. In each case the thief boldly secured entrance through a window, wandered over the house until he located trousers and coats of sleeping inmates and carried them off to a safe place, where he rifled them of money and valuables. The latest robbery was at the home of A. A. Doonan, 244 Washington street, Wednesday night. Four suits of clothes were taken out of bedrooms and left, empty, on the lower floor.

At E. P. Ansley's, on the Prado, the same method was followed some days ago, and likewise at J. H. Ewing's, Inman Circle, where $50 in money and a valuable watch were taken. Numerous other burglaries of exactly the same nature have been reported, and in one place, the home of J. J. Levin, nearly $1,000 was secured. J. T. Moody's residence, on Fourteenth street, is also said to have been robbed in the same way.

AWARDS ARE MADE IN POULTRY SHOW

Only the Sweepstakes Winners Now to Be Announced.

All awards in the Great Southern Poultry Show were completed yesterday except the sweepstakes winners and the knowledge that every winner in the big show would be marked during the day's exhibition drew a larger crowd than had before attended the show.

Competition in the different classes were closer in this show, it is stated, than that ever before known in one of the great southern shows, and unbounded interest attached to the awarding of the prizes, which was completed during Thursday.

ELOPERS FORGIVEN BY FATHER OF BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Daniel, who were romantically married Sunday a week ago, have received the forgiveness of the father of the bride, according to a telegram received last night from Montgomery, and the happy couple will soon leave Montgomery for Jacksonville on their honeymoon. Before her marriage Mrs. Daniel was Miss Elizabeth DuPree, the daughter of D. D. DuPree, of New York. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel met a year ago at Hampton Terrace, Augusta.

PAL MOORE LOSES TO MATTY BALDWIN

New York, January 11.—Matty Baldwin, of Boston, outpointed Pal Moore, of Philadelphia, in one of the cleverest and cleanest fights held since the inauguration of the new boxing law, at the National Sporting Club tonight. The men fought at the lightweight limit.

Baldwin used a right chopping blow to good effect and had the better of every round except the ninth. Then Moore smothered Baldwin with a succession of jabs and uppercuts, but the latter came back strong in the tenth, and by the popular verdict easily had the fight on points.

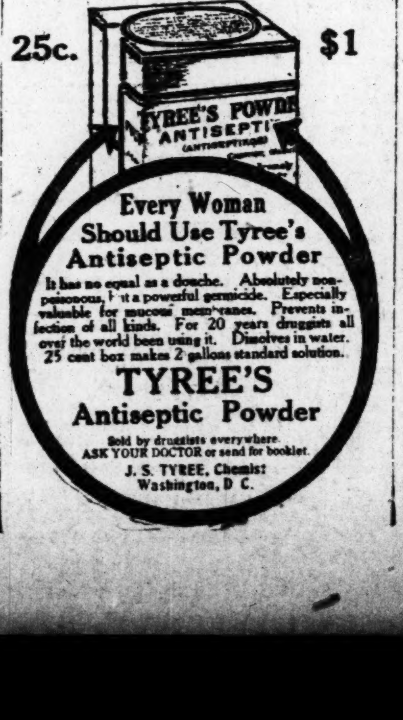

McFarland-Alberts Fight Off.

Toronto, January 11.—The fight scheduled for tonight between Packey McFarland and Kid Alberts was declared off this afternoon when Alberts developed symptoms of ptomaine poisoning.

FISTS ARE USED IN ROUGH GAME

PROTEST FILED.

The Company C-M. Rich & Co. game played on January 5, which was won by M. Rich, 14 to 13, has been protested by the Company C team. The protest was filed with the board of directors of the league at the regular meeting Tuesday night. The board was unable to come to any conclusion about the game, and it was decided to submit it for arbitration. An arbitration committee was elected to pass on this protest, consisting of Dick Jemison, sporting editor of The Constitution; Ogle Grice, publicity agent of the Atlanta and Fulton League, and Shelley Ivey, the "father of the league." The facts of the game are now in the hands of the arbitration committee, and will be passed upon soon.

Fulton League—Wesley Memorial 41, M. Rich 13.

At Y. M. C. A.:

Atlanta League—W. H. A. C 22, Y. M. C. A. 19.

Fulton League—Agogas 12, Y. M. C. A. 2.

At Armory Courts:

Atlanta League—Fifth Regiment 37, K. of C. 13.

Fulton League—No game.

By Ogle Grice.

Five games of basketball in the Atlanta and Fulton Leagues last night pried open the second half of the present season. Good, close games prevailed in nearly every instance, no large score being run up at any of the games, the highest being 41 by Wesley's Fulton team, and the lowest 10 by the Y. M. C. A. Fulton team. The Agoga-Y. M. C. A. Fulton League game set a new record for a low score, both teams making only 22 points, the record up till last night being 25.

In the Atlanta League the Wesley Memorial team won from the G. A. C. team, thus tieing them for second place. Wesley House Athletics copped from the Y. M. C. A., thus tieing W. H. A. C and the Y. M. C. A. for last place. The Fifth won easily from the Knights of Columbus with their star out of the game.

Fulton results show that no team is tied with any other for any position. The Boys' club not playing holds their percentage of .750, and Company C's at .200. M. Rich lost, thus dropping to .166. Wesley, winning from Rich, holds their percentage at 1.000. A strange feature of the games last night was that no relative changes in position of any club resulted, all clubs occupying (in some cases disputed) the same positions as before last night's games.

Rough Playing Begins.

The first real rough playing of the season ocurred in the Wesley Memorial-Grant Athletic club game. This game was a free-for-all fight throughout, and in the second half two fist fights were pulled off. At one time five of the Wesley men were pounding one G. A. C. man, and at all times the playing was very rough. The one man who played the game without any roughness was Tom Abbott, Captain G. A. C., and Harry Villiard, of the same team, came next. Frank Aldred played the cleanest game for Wesley. One man on each team was put out of the building on account of extreme roughness. The referee stated that had he called all fouls it would have taken all the time, and that no other playing would have been done.

The game was a disgrace to the sport. A large crowd of ladies and gentlemen had turned out to see a basketball game, and they were presented with fist fights. The fight will very probably have the serious attention of the board of directors at their next meeting.

Fifth Cops.

The Fifth Regiment team met and defeated the Knights of Columbus squad in a good game at the Armory courts to the tune of 37 to 13. Hugh Mauck, the brilliant center of the Fifth, did not participate in the game, and the Fifth's victory with him out shows what a real strong team the Fifth has. Fox, the latest addition to the Fifth's team, played a brilliant game, and Stallings and Jamison also starred for the Fifth.

Y. M. C. A. Gets Double Defeat.

The Wesley House Athletic Club squad, under the efficient coaching of their player-manager-captain, won for the first time this season from the Young Men's Christian Association five in a good, clean game. The game was noted for the fewness of the fouls, Wesley House Athletic Club being assessed one, while two were called on the Young Men's Christian Association. The line-up:

W. H. A. C.	Position.	Y. M. C. A.
Clayton (8)	R. F.	(2) E. M. Jones
Harris	L. F.	Rhodes
Dockstader (5)	C.	(15) Breen
Norris (7)	L. G.	Crook
Wallace (2)	R. G.	(2) Applewhite

Agogas Win.

In a good, closely fought contest, the Agogas won rfom the Young Men's Christian Association Fulton team by 2 points, 12 to 10. This game set two records, the Aogas held the Young Men's Christian Association scoreless in the first half, and the score of both teams was the lowest of any two teams this year. The guard work of the Agogas game was fine, and their goal shooting was far above the Young Men's Christian Association's in accuracy. The Young Men's Christian Association forwards seemed unable to locate the basket, having excellent opportunities to tie the score and to win the game. Swilling did some good work for the Young Men's Christian Association. Ballas and Phillips starred at guard. The entire Agoga team played a great game, the team as a whole deserving special mention. The line-up:

Y. M. C. A.	Position.	AGOGAS.
Link (2), Lamar	R. F.	(7) Smith
Clark (2)	L. F.	(5) Roberts
Pearson	C.	Camley
Swilling	R. G.	Cook
Ballas, Phillips	L. G.	Lewis

G. A. C. Game Loser.

The game between Wesley Memorial and the Grant Athletics resulted in a very close score, Wesley Memorial, 31; Grant Athletic Club, 26. All during the first half the score was tied, then one team would lead, and then the other, Wesley leading at the end of the first half by 2 points. Abbott's foul goal shooting was the basketball feature of the game. Weaver's fail to shoot fouls, only 2 out of 7 in the first half, was unusual. Some of the stars in the past games failed to do anything unusual in this game. Fuller, Grant Athletic Club's crack guard, proved that he is of the star type by holding the famous Aldred (who made 19 field goals in the last game and 16 in the one prior) to 3 field goals. Pie Weaver also did good work at guard. Graves did some good shooting for Wesley. Considering the extreme roughness by both teams, the game was a failure, but eliminating this it was a good, close game. The line-up:

G. A. C.	Position.	W. M.
Abbott (16)	R. F.	(6) Aldred
Villiard (4)	L. F.	(10) Graves
Slate, (4)	C.	(6) DuBard
Fuller (2)	R. G.	(4) Reed
Giles, Govan	L. G.	(5) Weaver

Fouls, Abbott 0, Villiard 4, Slate 5, Fuller 1, Giles 1, Govan 0, Aldred 5, Graves 3, DuBard 6, Reed 5, Weaver 5. Grant Athletic Club 11, Wesley Memorial 21.

M. Rich Defeated.

The Fulton game at Wesley was a good, clean game, a great contrast to the Atlanta game there. The game was marked for the clean playing of both teams and for the general team work of the Wesley team. Floyd did the best for Wesley at forward and Francis at guard. Harper and Goss did best for M. Rich. Score, end first half, Wesley Memorial 17, M. Rich 6; second half, Wesley Memorial 24, M. Rich 7; final score, Wesley Memorial 41, M. Rich 13. Fouls, Wesley Memorial 3, M. Rich 4. Referee, Dick Jemison.

BAR JOHNSON FROM NEW YORK

Boxing Commission Will Not Allow Him to Scrap There.

New York, January 11.—If Frank O'Neal, of the recently-created state athletic commission, has anything to say about it, Jack Johnson will never don a glove for a contest within the limits of New York state. There had been some talk of staging a short bout here for Johnson as a preliminary to the proposed match with Jim Flynn, in Nevada.

"But," said Commissioner O'Neal today, "this athletic commission was created to control boxing, and we're going to control it. I have come to the conclusion that it is against public policy and expediency to have Johnson box here. This is final."

O'Neal added that in the event any promoter should insist upon putting on a Johnson bout here, he would resign. "And that," he concluded, "would stop all contests."

AUBURN FIVE PLAYS MERCER

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) The Auburn basketball team will be the opponents of the Mercer University five here on Saturday night and a great game is expected.

AUBURN QUINTET PLAYS COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—The Columbus Young Men's Christian Association team will defend their colors against the invasion of Mike Donahue's Auburn lads here on Friday night.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

OUTLAWRY THREATENED FOR CHARLESTON RACES

New York, January 11.—The Jockey Club served notice tonight upon John Marshall, president of the Charleston (S. C.) Jockey Club, that the race meeting proposed to be held beginninng January 17 in Charleston will be regarded by the Jockey Club as an outlaw meeting unless the usual regulations of the Jockey Club are complied with. A resolution also was adopted to bar from sanctioned racing all horses, owners, trainers and jockeys who participated in the recent Columbia, S. C, meeting.

At the annual meeting of the stewards, August Belmont was elected chairman, James R. Keene vice chairman and F. K. Sturgis secretary and treasurer for 1912.

AMERICANS WILL NOT TRY FOR DAVIS CUP

Chicago, January 11.—Harry Waidner, secretary of the Western Lawn Tennis association, said that United States players would cease to be contenders for the international trophy unless Australian players accept an invitation to come here and defend the Davis cup on American courts. This Mr. Waidner says was the sentiment of tennis players throughout the country.

"American players develop themselves for the national tournament and reach their top form in July and August," he said, "and our team naturally plays under a great handicap by waiting to play for the trophy in December or January."

Keyes v. Cross.

New York, January 11.—(Special.)—Bert Keyes and Leach Cross will go ten rounds here on Friday night. It looks like a good scrap.

Mellody v. West.

New York, January 11.—(Special.)—Honey Mellody and Billy West will meet in a ten-round bout here Saturday night.

A Challenge.

Kid Knockemoffski II., who recently knocked out Kid Dawson, of Chattanooga, in an eight-round contest, is in Atlanta and looking for bouts with all comers at 95 pounds. Write or see Charlie Pollock, 119 Martin street.

STATEN'S CARD NOW COMPLETE

By the addition of a four-round bout between Willie Davis and Charley Collins, a couple of 145-pound boxers, Staten has completed the card that he will offer to local Queensberry fans tonight, and he stands ready to guarantee that it will be way above the average.

There isn't much gamble to this affair because two of the men are so well known locally. Of course the preliminary performers are unknowns, but nobody expects much from the first preliminary ginks.

In the semi-windup, Young Seymour meets Danny Goodman. Few local folk know Goodman. They have heard that, in addition to being a boxer, he is a professional strong man, and can tear a full deck of cards, straighten out a horse shoe and do like stunts, and they know that he has been boxing for a good while. But Seymour has had a multitude of bouts in Atlanta, and most of them have been good ones. So long as he is in the scrap there will be action. And he will go in to stay to the finish of the eight rounds of going. There cannot be much doubt but that this engagement will be a good one. Such excellent reports come from Goodman and such excellent form was shown by Seymour in his last local bout that their set-to should be a vigorous performance.

Mike Saul's name is all that is necessary to set on the program to make it certain that there will be action, and plenty of it. Saul won his way from the bottom to the top of the ring doings here by aggressiveness and durability. Since he has been at the top his willingness to go in and mix things has become proverbial.

Saul's opponent is the redoubtable Battling Minor, of Memphis. This chap, who has a couple of decisions over Joe Grim to his credit, is a corking good lightweight, and one calculated to make Saul extend himself to the utmost.

All six boys who are to take part are in Atlanta and trained down to good condition. Manager Staten has connected up the big stove, laid in a large supply of coal and is prepared for anything. The reserved seat sale has been unusually large, and altogether it appears that the boxing fans are to have a big evening of it. The firing starts at 9 o'clock sharp.

ATLANTA GRAYS PLAY BARONS

The Atlanta Grays, a team composed almost entirely of Fifth Regiment players, will take a trip to Birmingham tomorrow to tackle the Birmingham Athletic Club team.

That the Grays will be able to give a good account of themselves, every Atlanta basketball fan believes. The Fifth Regiment team has given a great account of itself this year, and should make it very interesting for the Birmingham Athletic Club.

The men who will make the trip are Mauck, at center; Jamerson and Stallings, at forwards; Jarvis, Fox and Goree, at guards.

ATHLETICS WIN FROM ASHEVILLE

The Atlanta Athletic Club team has "come back," or at least it has at last struck its stride and luck is no longer breaking in the wrong direction. The third victory in three games was the result obtained by the club boys against the Asheville basketball five in the game last night at the club courts. The score was 44 to 20.

In spite of the fact that the Atlanta club won, the playing was ragged at all times, and occasionally mediocre. From the beginning the result could be easily anticipated, and when the second half began it was simply a question of how fast the score could pile up.

The team work of the club boys is improving, while Griffith's goal-shooting has improved wonderfully.

Marked by fouls and resulting penalties, both teams were frequently in discussions with the referee, and several decisions were accepted with bad grace. Individually the game was a good one. Carter played a brilliant game at all times, being sure in both passing and shooting, while Falvey and Griffith also did stellar work. For Asheville, Schartle was by far the best player on both offense and defense.

The line-ups:

ASHEVILLE.		ATLANTA.
Lapinsky (2)	Forward	Forbes (8) Wrigtht.
Schartle (6)	Forward	Falvey (12) Greene.
Chambers (2)	Center	Griffith (14)
Tennant	Guard	Carter (8)
Young	Guard	Harrison (2)

Referee—Jamison.

MOBILE CHAMPS HERE SATURDAY

The Mobile Young Men's Christian Association basketball team, champions of the south, will be the attraction at the club's gymnasium on Auburn avenue on Saturday night.

The Mobile team won the championship last year and the easy manner in which they disposed of the Columbus Young Men's Christian Association team a week ago looks like they have another of their great teams.

The club men practice again tonight in preparation for the game and they hope to enter it in the best of condition, though the hard game with Asheville on Thursday night may have some effect upon their condition.

MORAN AND MANDOT SIGN AGREEMENT

New Orleans, January 11.—The West Side Athletic club management announced last night that an agreement had been signed by Owen Moran to meet Joe Mandot, February 18, carnival week, in a 20-round bout, before the West Side club. Both posted $250 forfeits to make 133 pounds ringside.

CLARENCE ENGLISH WANTS BOUTS HERE

Clarence English, the welterweight champion of the west, who is soon to meet Mige Gibons, wants to get a bout or two in Atlanta. If there are any welters in this section of the country, or promoters who wish to take on English, he is ready.

English is the lad who whipped Jack Robinson and Billy Bowman in Atlanta during the old boxing regime.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

With the break in the weather on Thursday several sales were announced. Inquiries are increasing and a good spring business is predicted by all agencies.

Follow the sales:

All Saints' Episcopal church has purchased the Cliff Hatcher home on North avenue, just in the rear of the church, for a consideration of $11,500. The property is 55x190 feet. It is understood that the vestry of the church will enlarge the present church building with this property.

The Atlanta Suburban Realty Company has sold for Lila E. Dews to H. R. Luke No. 12 Warren street, for a consideration of $3,350. The property consists of an eight-room, two-story house on a lot 67x360 feet.

Little & Green have sold for Mrs. E. L. Wimbish to Mrs. J. S. Jenkins a vacant lot on the south side of North avenue, between Highland and Seminole avenues, for a consideration of $1,750. The lot fronts 50 feet on North avenue and runs back 175 feet to an alley.

Young & Goodroe have sold for C. L. Peacock to S. S. Turner a hotel at Douglasville, Ga., for a consideration of $4,000.

Lease Announcements.

Forrest & George Adair have closed the following leases:

For W. A. Speer to Saul Bros., No. 26 Central avenue, the five-story and basement building formerly occupied by the Lamar-Rankin Drug Company. The consideration was about $3,000 a year, and the term of the lease was for five years.

This building has a frontage on the Georgia railroad.

To the American Soda Fount Company, a store room at No. 44 West Mitchell street for a term of five years, at $1,800 a year.

For the Baroness Rosenkrantz to V. E. Perryman and J. C. Burson, No. 109 North Pryor street, a store room, for three years. The lessees will use the property for surgical supplies.

For Mrs. M. E. Walthall to the Black Shoe Manufacturing Company, a lot at No. 197 1-2 Edgewood avenue.

For John E. Murphy to the Woodward Electric Company, the basement under the building at the northwest corner of Auburn avenue and Pryor street, for one year.

SAYS SOUTH'S PROBLEM IS ADULT ILLITERACY

Nashville, Tenn., January 11.—In an address here last night before the Tennessee Public School Officers' Association, P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, said:

"Adult illiteracy is the problem confronting us which has received less attention than any other one, and the one which deserves the most. A large per cent of our population in the south is illiterate, and, therefore, unable to aid in the struggle for good government. I am looking for a man or a group of men now that will be willing to give $25,000,000 to the federal government for the education of the adult illiterate."

Associate Justice Chosen.

Columbia, S. C., January 11.—In joint assembly this afternoon Thomas Boone Fraser, a representative from Sumter county, was elected associate justice of the state supreme court in the place of Eugene B. Gary, who was yesterday elected chief justice. Mr. Fraser defeated Circuit Judges George W. Gage and George E. Prince. C. A. Woods, of Marion, was elected without opposition to succeed himself as associate justice.

REBELLION IN BRAZIL; BAHIA IS BOMBARDED

Rio Janeiro, January 11.—The federal government has dispatched a warship to Bahia, 800 miles northeast of Rio Janeiro, on account of a serious situation which has arisen there. Fort Sao Marcello yesterday bombarded and destroyed the state government building and several houses.

The trouble, it is said, is the outcome of a refusal of the state government to act upon a federal court judgment, granting a writ of habeas corpus in favor of certain opposition deputies. All shops in Bahia are closed and the people are alarmed at the possibility of further disorders.

From 36 to 65 Millions.

Norfolk, Va., January 11.—At its annual meeting here, January 27, stockholders of the Virginian railway will vote to increase the capital stock from $36,000,000 to $65,000,000, to be divided into $29,000,000 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $36,000,000 common stock. The minimum stock will be placed at $50,000,000 and maximum $65,000,000. The reason for the proposed increase was not announced. It is stated, however, that the Virginian contemplated extensive improvements and possible extensions.

WANTED RECORDS CANNOT BE FOUND

Documentary Evidence Needed in Trial of the Packers Strangely Missing.

Chicago, January 11.—Books and records showing the items and allowances used in figuring the test cost of fresh meats, which were inspected by a federal grand jury investigating charges of rebating against the packers in 1909, cannot be found by employees of the defendants for use in the trial of the ten packers charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade before United States District Judge Carpenter.

Three accountants employed by the packers testified today that they had searched for the records in question and had been unable to find them. They said they believed the documents had been destroyed.

The witnesses were asked to bring the price ledger and other books bearing on the manufacture and sale of fresh meat into court tomorrow, but it is expected that the defense will make a determined effort to prevent them from going into the record of the case on the ground that the books of a corporation cannot be used as evidence against officers in a criminal proceeding.

The three witnesses heard today previously had given testimony against the packers before federal grand juries, but Judge Carpenter declined to permit the witnesses to read the stenographic report of the grand jury evidence for the purpose of refreshing their memory.

The packers' accountants were unable to remember many of the items and allowances used in figuring the test cost of slaughtered cattle.

The three witnesses heard were Henry F. Moyer, chief accountant in the dressed meat department of Armour & Co.; Edgar Rotschild, a clerk in the same department, and H. A. Timmins, chief accountant for Morris & Co.

The government endeavored to show by the testimony of these witnesses that the system used by Armour & Co. and Morris & Co., in figuring the test cost, was substantially the same and that the allowances made for the different by-products were inadequate.

District Attorney Wilkerson said that in the future employees of the packers summoned as witnesses by the government would be excluded from the court room until they are called to the stand.

COMMITTEE WOULD WIDEN STREETS

and taxpayers have appeared before the finance committee and shown the importance and urged the necessity of improving Spring, West Peachtree and Ivy streets in order to relieve the traffic congestion on Peachtree, which has become a veritable death-trap. Peachtree is now the only street on the north side of the city that has a good grade, and is well paved from the center of the city to the country. It is daily traveled by thousands of vehicles. It is an absolute necessity to have other good thoroughfares on the north side, and it has been demonstrated to the committee that the improvement of Spring, West Peachtree and Ivy streets will not only relieve the congestion, but will develop a section of the city whose growth demands the improvements asked for. If the finance committee cannot give all the money this year necessary for these streets, it will doubtless make such appropriation as will start the work. The work on Spring street has already been started.

For Driveways to Grant Park.

The demand for a well-paved street from the center of the city to Grant park has been laid before the finance committee, and it has been agreed that the best street for this purpose is East Fair, as it leads from Washington street, which is well paved, to the city limits, and makes connection with Hill and Grant streets and Oakland, Cherokee and Park avenues, which are all well paved and lead to Grant park. That an appropriation for this work will be made by the finance committee is the opinion of all who have urged that the work be done this year.

A number of citizens from the north side and the south side have appeared before the finance committee and asked that both North and South Boulevard be paved so as to make a good driveway across the city from Piedmont park to Grant park. This work has been so urgently demanded that it is believed the finance committee will provide the money, as the county has promised to help.

An appropriation will undoubtedly be made for the completion of the work of extending Georgia avenue so as to connect with Gordon street, and thereby make a continuous driveway from Grant park to West End.

Other Appropriations Needed.

It is believed that an appropriation will also be made for the contemplated improvement of West Mitchell street and West Hunter street.

The closing of the underpasses on Forsyth street, which is another big and necessary improvement of a central business street, is being considered by the finance committee, and an appropriation for the work will probably be made.

As stated to the finance committee by such men as Joel Hurt, Judge Spencer R. Atkinson, Samuel M. Inman, E. P. Ansley, Shelby Smith and others, this ought to be the greatest street improvement year in the history of Atlanta, and it is believed tha the appeals have been so strong, and have so impressed the members of the finance committee, that ample provision will be made for the great work that is contemplated in this direction.

How Marietta, Ga., Views It.

The following letter from a well-known citizen of Marietta, Ga., illustrated the feeling in that city toward the widening of Marietta street.

"Marietta, Ga., January 10.—Editor Constitution: Viewing Marietta street from this end of the line, we of Marietta and Cobb county are astonished that your progressive city would allow the greater part of one of the main arteries into your city to lay dormant so many years. Why, the wagon trade alone coming from the lower end of Cobb county would pay for paving and widening every foot of the street, to say nothing of the enhancement in real estate. There are more than 150 automobiles in and around Marietta that would motor into your city as many as from a dozen to twenty-five times a day. As it is, we go as little as possible, as we are forced to pull over the steep hills in and around Vining, and by Buckhead, several miles out of the way. Your citizens are vastly more interested in this improvement than we of Marietta and Cobb county, because it means many dollars in trade to your merchants.

"The board of county commissioners of Cobb county have already built a splendid road to within a few miles of the river, and it is only a question of a short time until this work is completed

"Civic pride alone should stimulate your city fathers to this very important improvement.

"As a member of your city council, a few years ago, it struck me as one of the most peculiar situations that the city should allow a street with the greatest possibilities of any radiating from the very heart of the city to go untouched for so long.

"By all means give us a wide, well-paved Marietta street, and take it from me, the benefits will be tenfold.

"Yours truly,

"CHARLES A. WIKLE."

nizing process. No serious illness has been produced.

The number of Texas towns that have quarantined against Texas points where meningitis has appeared, was raised to five by the addition of Thorndale, Midlothian and Groesbeck. Hewitt, McLenan county, and Longview are the other two.

Quarantine Ineffective.

Shreveport, La., January 11.—By a vote of 3 to 2 the Shreveport city board of health today declined to establish a quarantine against the state of Texas, where several towns are suffering from an outbreak of cerebro spinal meningitis. The action was taken after a statement made by Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the Louisiana state board of health, in which he declared the belief that such a quarantine was unnecessary, and would not prove effective if established.

Dr. Dowling said his investigations, after conference with the Rockefeller institute expert, showed that meningitis cannot be traced to any particular source, and that so little is as yet known regarding the disease that to quarantine against it would be folly.

No Cause for Alarm.

Austin, Texas, January 11.—To inquiries from the health boards of several eastern states and of California, State Health Officer Steiner today replied that there is no cause for alarm about the meningitis epidemic in north Texas.

tin for having assaulted a strike-breaker; George Gurrey, E. A. Misner, and the two men jointly indicted with Conners, A. B. Maple and F. Ira Bender.

Parks declared Conners had said he and the other five had planned the destruction of the county structire, and that their meetings somtimes were attended by C. L. Mars, and Logan deHaven. Parks testified, however, that Conners told him that he, Maple and Bender, were assigned to do the actual work of placing the dynamite.

To Maim Strike-Breakers.

In addition, Parks asserted on cross-examination that the strikers sent "wrecking crews" about the city at night to break the legs of strike-breakers, so they would be unable to work. Parks added that "wrecking crews" were particularly anxious to "beat up" Gustav W. Saurret, superintendent of construction for the Llewellyn Iron Works, which had a contract for part of the construction of the hall of records.

Parks asserted that the "wrecking crews" were armed with pieces of gas pipe and "black jacks." He named Conners, deHaven, Mars and Stevens as members of the crews.

"To Hell With Temple!"

"Conners told me of a plan he had for dynamiting the safe in the Labor Temple in order to get money." Parks went on. "He said there was $35,000 or $40,000 in the safe. I told him that if he dynamited the safe he would destroy the temple. He said, 'To hell with the temple!'

"Conners also stated that he did not have to go to work for money if he wanted to act 'dirty.' He said he knew enough about other union men 'to send them to hell, or to the penitentiary,' if he wanted to tell it."

DISEASES OF MEN

MY experience of 35 years has shown me that more human wrecks are caused by chronic gonorrhœa than by any other disease.

No disease needs more careful or scientific attention to effect a cure. I also know there is no quick cure for syphilis. Temporary removal of symptoms is not a cure. Experience, careful attention to details and a thorough knowledge of how and when to use the remedies known to be beneficial in the treatment of this disease, produce results. Honest business methods and conscientious treatment are features of my office. Examinations free. Office hours 8 to 7; Sundays and holidays, 10 to 1. My monographs free in plain, sealed wrapper.

BLOW IS DEALT MONEY LENDERS

Supreme Court Decision Has Effect on Railroad Salary Assignments.

The case of the Central of Georgia Railway Company v. King Bros. & Co. et al., which was decided yesterday, involves a point of jurisdiction that it is believed will put a check to the business of money lending so far as the railroads having charters under the state of Georgia are concerned.

The main railroads effected are the Central of Georgia, the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, and the Georgia railroad, as well as all of the small roads in the state.

The case arose through a suit filed by King Bros. against the Central railroad and R. E. Weeks, on account of an alleged assignment made by Weeks of his salary with the Central railroad. The suit was brought in Fulton county, where both Weeks and King Bros. reside. The railroad defended on the sole point that as its charter was granted by the state of Georgia, and its principal office was fixed by the charter in Savannah, Chatham county, suits of this kind could only be brought in Chatham county.

The case was heard by Judge Bell in September, 1910. On October 14, 1910, he rendered his decision, holding that the suit could be brought in this county. The railroad carried the case to the supreme court, and in its decision the supreme court holds that suits of this character can only be brought in the home county of the railroad, thus reversing the lower court.

Railroad representatives believe that the practical effect of this decision will be to break up the business with employees of these companies, except in the home counties, for the reason that the amounts loaned are small, and the money lenders, it is pointed out, could not afford to go to the home county of the railroad for the purpose of enforcing their demands.

The case was argued in the lower court and in the supreme court by M. F. Goldstein, local counsel, and Payne, Little & Jones, division counsel. R. B. Blackburn and Malvern Hill represented King Bros., and Ogburn, Dorsey & Skelton represented Weeks.

serting everywhere that organized labor will not be injured by the present proceedings, for it will be a benefit to labor to have it purged of corrupt political leaders."

It is understood, if any prosecutions result from the present federal grand jury investigation of the dynamite conspiracy, they are to be heard before Judge Anderson.

Many Witnesses Heard.

About a dozen witnesses, some of them from Chicago, were before the grand jury today. They included Aloys Silverman, former keeper of a saloon in Chicago where Ortie McManigal is said to have met others in reference to places that were to be blown up; Bert H. Morgan and Arthur J. Fitzgerald. Chicago is known to be one of the places through which dynamite and nitro-glycerin were carried in suit cases by the dynamiters and at one time McManigal kept a store of explosives there for use on "jobs" in Wisconsin, Missouri and Iowa.

Witnesses presumed to have information as to the identity of persons responsible for explosions against "open shop" structures in Boston and Springfield, Mass., and Hoboken, N. J., also were examined.

Snowstorm at St. Louis.

St. Louis, January 11.—St. Louis was swept by a blizzard tonight, with the temperature 1 degree below zero, a 25-mile wind blowing a blinding snowstorm, which had raged all day.

General Blizzard on the Job.

Chicago, January 11.—Ushered in by a blinding snow storm that swept over a portion of the country extending north and south from Wisconsin to Missouri, a renewal of the cold wave of the last few days descended on the central states tonight. Although the temperature had crept back above zero in many places, the weather forecast tonight predicted much colder weather for tomorrow. In the middle west and northwest the mercury's level stood from zero to 32 degrees below at 9 o'clock tonight. The coldest points were in the Canadian northwest. Bismarck, N. D., wrested the low mark from Medicine Hat, with 32 below, two degrees colder than its rival. At Duluth it was 26 below and at Omaha 14.

"Norther" Strikes Texas.

Dallas, Texas, January 11.—With the temperature suddenly changing today at 10 o'clock from 57 degrees, at which point it had stood for twelve hours, the most severe "norther" of the winter swept down on Texas and Oklahoma at the rate of 40 miles an hour and by nightfall the drop had marked the most radical change of the season, zero and several degrees below having already been reported from many points; with the mercury going down at the rate of a degree an hour. From Amarillo, in the Pan-Handle, comes the report that the forecast for 13 or 15 below by morning. Three degrees below was reached at 6 o'clock this evening.

At Beaver, Okla., 18 below is reported, with snow 2 feet deep for the past three weeks, and wide-spread loss among cattle.

Wineskie Case Adjourned.

Greensboro, N. C., January 11.—Upon the failure of the state to furnish counsel of the defense a full bill of particulars in the case against Frank Wineskie, indicted for the embezzlement of $20,000 from the Standard Mirror Company, of High Point, Justice Collins today adjourned the preliminary hearing until tomorrow. The accused, through counsel, declared his willingness for an early trial, but declined to consent to a hearing before a complete bill of particulars had been prepared.

SPANISH MINISTER WANTS TO QUIT CUBA

Havana, January 11.—Secretary of State Sanguily tonight announced that the Spanish minister, Senor Vallin, had asked to be recalled. The minister's action is the result of much resentment which has been caused by adverse criticisms of the Cuban government and the veteran movement, attributed to him in an interview published by the newspaper, Ultima Hora. The minister subsequently stated that he had been partly misquoted, but reiterated the statement that the continuance of the veteran movement would result in making it impossible for Spaniards to continue to live in Cuba.

Secretary Sanguily says that the Cuban government has not asked for the minister's recall. It is rumored tonight that the minister's retirement will precede a duel with a prominent veteran.

During the year 1909, 322 persons were killed and 17,800 injured by vehicles in the streets of London.
